

THEME:
THE PECULIARITY OF THE BRITISH FOLKLORE.

The problem: are there any natural elements in the British folklore?

The object: the British folklore.

The subject: some British idioms, proverbs and sayings about the British nature.

Folklore is beliefs long preserved among a tribe or nation.
Folklore is a value of people.

Result 4: Some British natural elements.

the wet, mild and humid climate

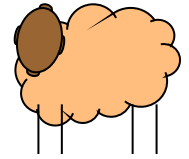

Result 6 : Some British natural elements.

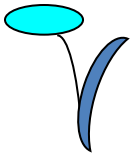

Iron ore

Coal

Sheep-breeding

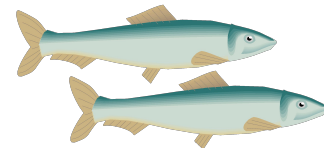

Flax

Hard working people

Fishing

Result 7 :

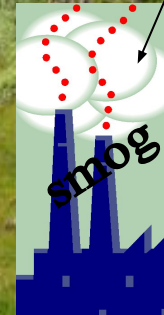

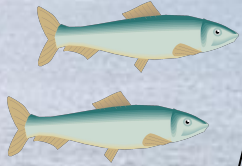

The influence of the geographical situation on the British climate.

the wet, mild and humid climate

rains

thick fogs

the hard working people

Result 9: Some British idioms, proverbs and sayings.

It never rains but it pours. A foul morning turn to fair day.
After rain comes fair weather. Rain at 7, fine at 11.

The British weather is too changeable. It often rains. The British like to say: “If there were no clouds we shout not enjoy the sun.”

RESULT 10: Some idioms about the British weather.

Change of weather is the discourse of fools.