

THE PRESENT PERFECT TENSE

Если неизвестно или неважно, когда совершено какое –либо действие, но важен его результат, в английском языке используется особое время, которое называется present perfect.

She has washed the plates.

They have done their homework.

He has eaten his porridge.

Have/has + V₃

I
You
We They

have

He She
It has

V₃

Regular

+ed

answered

cooked opened

Irregular

be-been

see-seen

write-written have-had

Sam has washed his car. (wash)

Mary has watched the film.
(watch)

Tim and Tom have visited the British Museum. (visit)

They have started reading a new book. (start)

I have been to London. (be)

She has not seen Buckingham palace. (not see)

Mr. Black has written a letter.
(write)

Lizzy has not given Rex a bone. (not give)

QUESTIONS

Have you done your homework?

Yes, I have.

No, I have not.

Has she written a letter?

Yes, she has.

No, she has not.

Answer the questions

Have you been to Australia?

Have you swum in the sea?

Have they come on time?

Who has written a letter?

Have you spoken to English people?

How much bones has the dog eaten?