Под преемственностью понимается последовательность и системность в расположении учебного материала, связь и согласованность ступеней и этапов учебно-воспитательной работы; процесс развития учащихся путем осмысливания и взаимодействия старых и новых знаний, прежнего и

Непрерывность образования – обеспечение этой связи в процессе как согласованность и перспективность всех компонентов системы (целей, задач, содержания, методов, средств, форм организации воспитания и обучения) на каждом возрастном этапе образования в системе всех звеньев образовательных учреждений.

Компоненты педагогической системы преемственности

Преемственность в становлении личности

Преемственность в содержании обучения

Преемственность в методах, формах, приемах, средствах обучения

Рассогласованность КОМПОНЕНТОВ

1. ~~на различных~~ на различных этапах обучения
2. уровни обучения (УМК)
3. традиционные и современные методы и технологии
4. программа начального обучения и программа по иностранному языку
5. учебные предметы
6. школа и ВУЗ

Главной составляющей инновационного восприятия процесса обучения в условиях реализации ФГОС второго поколения является личностно-ориентированный подход.

Иностранный язык обладает рядом особенностей:

- межпредметность;
- многоуровневость;
- полифункциональность;
- ситуативность.

Основной целью обучения
иностранному языку в
современной школе в
соответствии с ФГОС является
развитие иноязычной
коммуникативной компетенции.

Активные методы
обучения– это методы, которые побуждают учащихся к активной мыслительной и практической деятельности в процессе овладения учебным материалом.

Активные методы обучения:

- обучение в сотрудничестве
- исследовательский
- интерактивное обучение ; метод;
- метод проектов;
- дискуссия;
- технология развития критического мышления;
- кейс-метод;
- игровые технологии;
- методы проблемного обучения;
- здоровьесберегающие;
- тренинги.

I. Read the story and say why Peter was happy to spend his summer holidays in the country house.

PETER'S HOLIDAY

Mr and Mrs Gray lived in a big city. Mr Gray worked in a bank and spent a lot of time at work. Mrs Gray was fond of music and art. The Grays had a son whose name was Peter. Peter was good at all the subjects at school but didn't like to wash. He hated water.

Mr and Mrs Gray wanted to spend the summer in the country. They found a nice small house not very far from Mr Gray's office. Mrs Gray and Peter went there one weekend at the beginning of June. Later Mr Gray wanted to join them. Peter and his mother went there for two weeks. It was late in the evening when they arrived at the house. Mrs Gray said to Peter, "We're going to stay here for fourteen days."

The boy ran into the house, turned on the light and looked into all the rooms. He saw a nice kitchen with a white fridge, two cupboards, a cooker and a sink. There was gas and electricity in the house. Peter also saw a vacuum cleaner in the corner. The sitting room with a tall mirror and a wonderful fireplace was fantastic. You could play football there.

Peter ran back to his mother and snouted: "Mummy! It's great! But I haven't found a bathroom. Where is it?" "It's very difficult to get water here," his mother answered, "and there is no hot and cold running water here." "That's very good, Mum," Peter said. "That is going to be a very nice holiday indeed!"

II. Choose the right variant to answer to the question:

Why was Peter happy to spend his summer holidays in the country house?

- 1) The house was very far from the city.
- 2) He was going to stay there for the whole summer.
- 3) There weren't all the modern conveniences there.
- 4) There was a football ground there.

If your answer is right the real reason (that is a noun) should be placed here in these boxes:

Which house would you prefer to live in?

The collage features four distinct housing options. In the top left, a woman in a blue dress stands at the entrance of a cave carved into a reddish rock face. In the top right, two conical wigwams are shown; one is plain white, and the other is decorated with red and white patterns. In the bottom left, a tall, modern white apartment block with a central tower stands against a blue sky. In the bottom right, a small, rustic wooden house with a thatched roof is nestled in a lush green, hilly landscape.

A married vicar has left his job after having an affair with the wife of a local doctor. Dr Mark Lucas, 36, interrupted the Rev David Hughes during a church service to call him 'a liar, a cheat and a shameless adulterer' after finding letters from Rev Hughes to his wife.

Will Dr Lucas forgive his wife or not?

Gary Buxton, a retired taxi driver, who was attending the church service, said: 'Everything went very quiet. We were all a bit shocked. Then David walked out of the church and no one has seen him since.' Dr Lucas said: 'I had not intended to make a scene. But when he started preaching to people how to live their lives, I saw red. I have seen my solicitor and am seeking a divorce. I won't share a house with her any longer. Not even for the sake of the children.' The Lucases have three children, aged 12, 10 and 8. Rev Hughes and his wife have a grown-up daughter. Mrs Lucas, a teacher at St Mark's Primary School, is believed to have left the area with Rev Hughes. Mrs Hughes was not available for comment.

MAKE THE RIGHT CHOICE:

It can be the last holiday
in your life!

You drink. Your baby drinks.

From 4 bottles one is not
for you but for your child!

How long do you want to live?

A puff of smoke can damage
your health.

It is your individual choice:
smoke or not to smoke?
That is the question!

You smoke an hour -
your baby suffers all his life!

A minute of smoking is an hour of your child's life.

Don't look at the world
through the glass
of the bottle!

Aren't you afraid of

Topics for discussion:

1. What will follow books?
2. What will happen to books in 20, 50 years' time?
3. In what school subjects can e-books be especially important?
4. In what school subjects can you easily do without e-books?
5. Why aren't Americans scoring higher on tests if the US has more Internet uses than any other country?

5. e-books will replace paper books.

7. e-books and computers will never replace teachers at school.

9. e-books are not intelligent, they only think they are.

What do you think about e-books and paper books?

I am sure that fundamental libraries will exist and evolve much higher. The United States has more Internet users than any other country. If the Internet's information is so easily accessed, then why aren't Americans scoring higher on tests than people of other countries?

I don't believe computers are the only means. Only America's educational standards are so low today. Many factors contribute to it. However, students will rely on computers to do all their work and being cheated out of mind-expanding experience. When I see the computer, I don't feel like I am challenging myself or gaining my brain. The student makes the most use of me.
