Unlike most people, Marty O'Brien loves long car trips. In fact, he often tries to make them longer. Marty is member of the Extra Miler Club. His goal is to visit every one of the 3145 countries in the United States. So far, he has visited 1441. "On every trip", he says "I look for new places to go." That's the philosophy of the people in the Extra Miles Club. The club began in 1973, and it now has 207 members. Twelve of these members have visited every country. They have even travelled by seaplane to get to countries in Alaska that are hard to reach. Some others have been to every state. Roy Carson is one of the people who started the club. In 1985 he travelled to his last county. But didn't take any photographs on his trips. So now he's trying again. This time he's taking photographs of himself in front of each county sign. So far, he has covered 538,427 miles. "It's just as much fun the second time around, but it's a lot more expensive," he says. Gas cost just 39 cents a gallon when he first started in 1949.
