

St Andrew's Day

There is a country in the north of Great Britain called Scotland.

The legend says: “The Scottish King promised that if the Scots won the battle with the English, St. Andrew became the patron saint of Scotland.

On the eve of the battle the King saw the white cross in the blue sky, it was a lucky token: the Scottish army won the battle and the King kept his promise. Since then this cross has appeared on the flag of Scotland. The day of November 30th became the national holiday and ...

ST. ANDREW'S DAY

The main city of St Andrew's Day in Scotland is the city of St Andrews in Fife.

St Andrews

St Andrew's Cathedral

St Andrew's Castle

On November 30th Scots
attend traditional music concerts.

On November 30th Scots
visit special church services.

On November 30th Scots
participate in porridge making contest.

On November 30th Scots go to piping contests and ceilidhs.

On November 30th Scots
visit places like ...

Royal and Ancient Golf Club

Masonic Lodge

On November 30th Scots
watch fireworks.

That is a happy
St Andrew's Day