Last week Tom was taken ill. He was running a high temperature. He felt sick and giddy. He had a headache and a sore throat. His mother phoned the polyclinics. The doctor arrived at 11 o'clock.

She asked to strip to the waist, examined his throat, felt his pulse, listened to his lungs and chest, tested his blood pressure. She also took his temperature. It was 39. She said that it was flu.

The doctor wrote a prescription for some pills and mixture. She asked him to take a tablespoonful of it 3 times a day.

His mother got the medicine from the chemist's. Tom followed the doctor's advice and soon he recovered
