

The background of the slide is a stylized representation of the Russian flag, featuring three horizontal bands of white, blue, and red. The bands are separated by wavy, scalloped borders, giving the appearance of a draped or flowing fabric. The colors are vibrant and the overall style is graphic and modern.

The icons of Russia

East or West home is best.

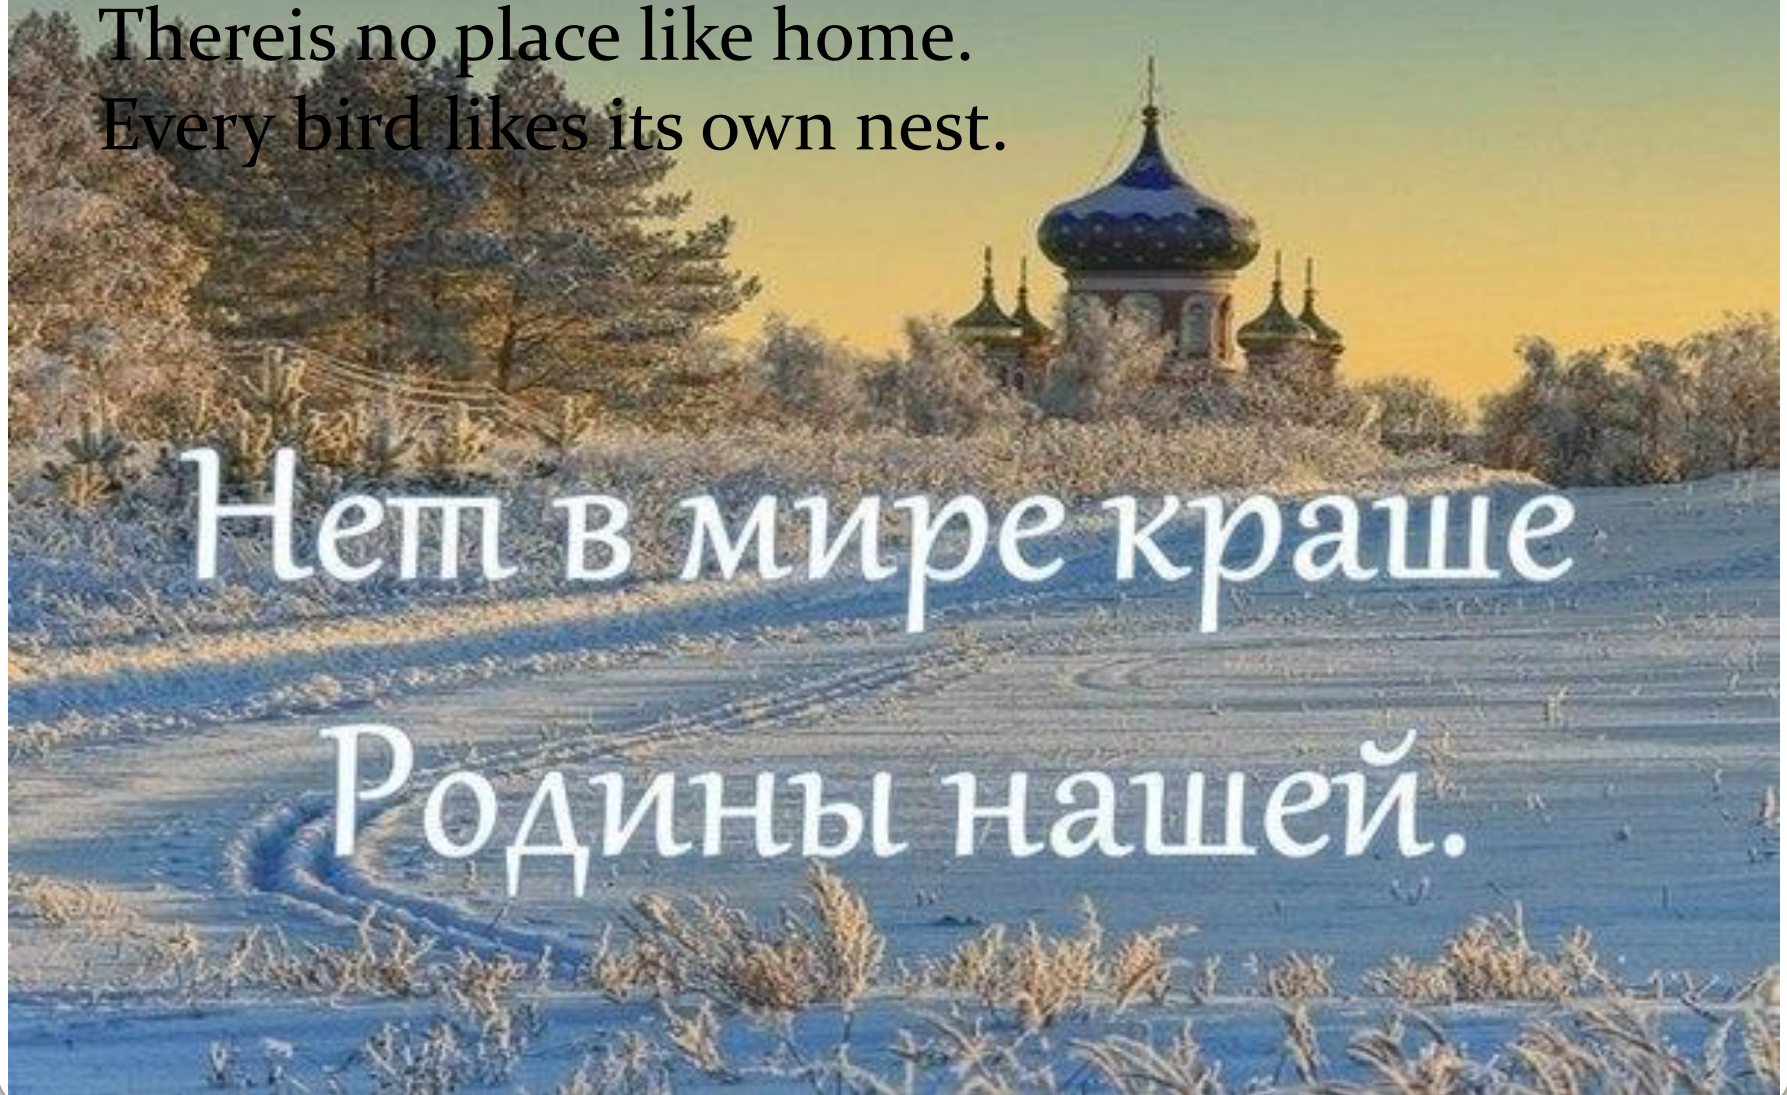

Every cook praises his own broth.

There is no place like home.

Every bird likes its own nest.

Нет в мире краше

Родины нашей.

The Seven Strong Men Rock Formations or Poles (The Komi Republic) are 7 gigantic stone pillars. They are around 30 to 42 m high. They were formed by ice and winds.

Mount Elbrus is a volcano. Mount Elbrus's peak is the highest in the Caucasus, in Russia

Lake Baikal is a lake in the south of Siberia. Lake Baikal contains 20% of the world's unfrozen surface fresh water. It is the clearest of all lakes.

The Petergoff Palace includes palaces and gardens. It is located in Saint Petersburg. It is famous for its fountains.

Mamayev Kurgan is a great monument in Volgograd. It commemorates the Stalingrad Battle. In 1967 the statue named "The Motherland Calls" was the largest free-standing sculpture in the world.

A photograph of Saint Basil's Cathedral in Moscow, Russia. The cathedral is a prime example of Russian Orthodox architecture, featuring a complex structure with multiple onion-shaped domes in various colors including red, green, blue, and gold. The central dome is the tallest and most prominent, topped with a golden cross. The building is constructed from red brick with white decorative elements. The sky is blue with some light clouds. In the foreground, there are some people walking and a street lamp.

Saint Basil's Cathedral in Moscow is also called the Cathedral of Vasily the Blessed. It was built in 1555. It commemorates the capture of Kazan and Astrakhan

*It's necessary to try
It's exciting to visit to watch*

*It's interesting to talk about
It's impossible to imagine*

It's easy to buy

It's nice to listen to

