- The first cards were the idea of Henry Cole , who was the first director of the Victoria and Albert Museum in London. Every year he sent short letters to his friends at Christmas, wishing them a holiday season . But in 1843 he had no time for letter –writing ,so he asked an artist, John C. Horsley, to design a card with a printed message that would substitute for his –year- to year greeting. So a new tradition was born for the holiday season .

Dear Santa-Claus,

My name is Jill. I am seven. I like to go to school.

I can read, write and count. I am a good pupil. I help my mum. I clean the rooms. I walk with Rex in the park. Rex is a nice black dog. I like to skate and ride a bike.

I like Christmas. We love you, dear Santa. I would like Christmas presents. I would like new skates or a new bike. Rex would like a big red ball. Come and see us. We have got a nice Christmas tree, a lot of sweets, apples and oranges.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year !

Jill and Rex Brown.
