THE FAMILY OF THE POET.

Pushkin's mother
Nadezhda Ossipovna Gannibal (1775–1836)
comes through her paternal grandmother from German and Scandinavian nobility. She was the daughter of Ossip Abramovich Gannibal
(1744–1807) and his wife Maria Aleksejevna Pushkina
(1745–1818)

Pushkin's father
Sergei Lvovich Pushkin (1767–1848) comes from a distinguished family of the Russian nobility which traced its ancestry back to the 12th century

Olga Sergeevna - the sister of A. S. Pushkin. Was very friendly in childhood and adolescence. The poet belonged to her friend, shared their impressions and often asked her advice. Olga Pushkin, fairly well-read in the literature, French and Russian, and she was no stranger poetic inspiration; excerpts from her album the lyrics of French and Russian.

Lev Sergeyevich Pushkin was born, like his brother Alexander Pushkin in Moscow. In 1815, Leo entered the main German School at the Lutheran Church of St. Peter. Then he studied at the guest house at Tsarskoye Selo Lyceum, and then in the boarding school at the Main Pedagogical Institute.

LYCEUM IN PUSHKIN'S LIFE

Some interesting fact: Pushkin entered high school «по благу». His uncle was personally acquainted with the founder of the institution Sperdinski, and asked the petition for his nephew (in those days only 30 people entered the lyceum).

Some interesting fact: In high school, the future poet was the most underachieving student. He had the lowest marks in the whole class.

Some interesting fact: After graduating from the lyceum in 1817 Pushkin was "excellent" only in fencing, Russian and French literature. All his studying was in constant duel and "sharp tongue" talks.

In the Lyceum years Pushkin had written about 120 poems and began work on the poem "Ruslan and Lyudmila".
