In England it is second after Oxford in seniority.

Cambridge graduates become highly qualified specialists in humanitarian and technical Sciences.

The history of the University

The University was founded by a group of teachers and students who have left Oxford as a result of conflict with residents (one of the students was accused of complicity in the murder).

Founded in 1209. The first College, called Peter house, was opened in the year 1284.

- Studies in those days lasted for many years, after the completion of the course the graduates are required to hold it at the "Alma mater" for another 2 years in teaching posts. This University became one of the first educational institutions in England, where in addition to the Law of God and theology, were taught mathematics, logic, foreign languages and philosophy.
- The first College for girls was opened In 1869.
