Oxford street

Oxford street is the busiest shopping street of Europe with a length of 2.4 kilometers. There are a lot of fashionable boutiques here with half a million visitors a day.

Selfridges — one of the biggest shopping centres in the UK. The building is unique, it is a part of the national heritage of the U. K. It was founded by the American businessman Harry Selfridge in 1909.

Each Christmas Oxford street is decorated with festive lights. These lights are lit by famous people : for example, Richard Branson, Spice Girls, Jim Carrey.

Hollywood Boulevard

Hollywood Boulevard is in Los Angeles. There are many cafes, restaurants and film museums.

The main attraction of Hollywood is the famous Hollywood "Walk of Fame". There are more than 2,400 five-pointed copper stars, which are embedded in the pavement.

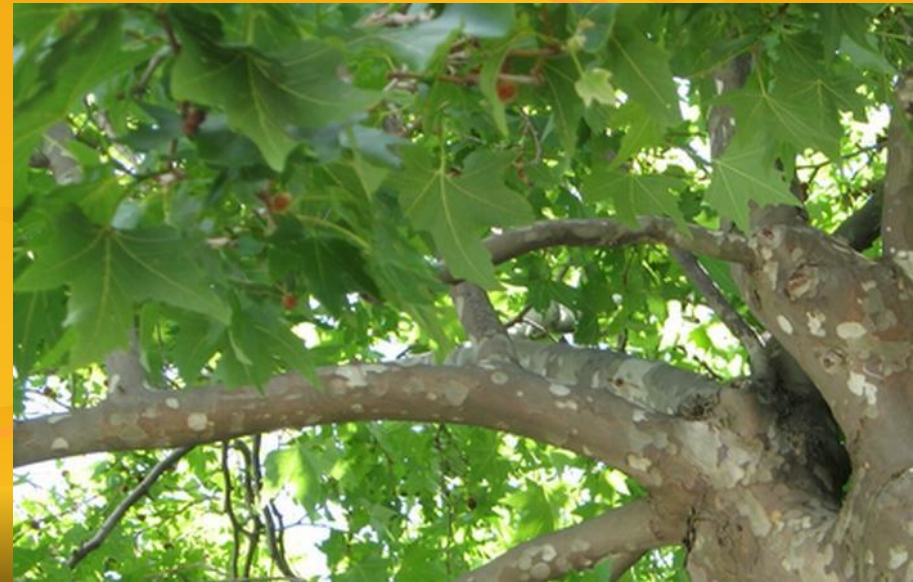

Wall Street

New York's Wall Street is in the center of Manhattan. It is a symbol of money and power. It is a short and narrow street. It is where most of the city's banks are.

Wall street as a center of business and Finance was founded under the sycamore tree, where twenty-four traders signed the agreement about trade shares with each other in 1792.
