

Montreal

The second largest French-speaking city in the world.

Montreal

Montreal, long Canada's largest city, is the second largest French-speaking city in the world. Founded in the 17th century as Ville-Marie, Montreal soon developed into a large multilingual metropolis.

The founder of Montreal, Paul Chomedey de Maisonneuve. The monument was designed by Louis-Philippe Hébert

The Redpath Museum

The Redpath Museum is a museum of natural history on the campus of McGill University. Its varied collection of natural treasures includes mummies, minerals, shells and fossils that are displayed in Victorian-era cases.

Notre-Dame Basilica

Montreal's magnificent Basilique Notre-Dame (Basilica of our Lady) is a stunning example of the fine ecclesiastic architecture of the nineteenth century.

Underground City

Now one of Montreal's biggest tourist attractions, the RÉSOMONTEMENT or Underground City keeps Montrealers safe and warm during the cold winter months. It is home to numerous shops and restaurants and is connected to subways, train stations, hotels, etc.

Mount Royal Park

For more than a century, this beautiful city park has been the center of activity for Montreal residents who love the great outdoors.

View from Mount-Royal at night

Olympic Tower

One of the unique features of the Montreal Olympic Stadium is its inclined tower. The observatory that sits atop the tower offers a bird's-eye view of the city.

St. Joseph Oratory

The largest church in Canada, Oratoire St. Joseph (the Oratory of St. Joseph) attracts more than two million visitors each year.

City Hall

Montréal's Hôtel de Ville (City Hall) is one of the city's most spectacular buildings, fashioned in a style that pays homage to the mother country, France.

Museum of Fine Arts

Montreal's Museum of Fine Arts is the oldest museum in Canada. Its collections cover art from across the world. The museum is particularly strong in Canadian art and Decorative Arts.

Interior

Cathédrale Marie-Reine-du-Monde

Montreal's Cathédrale Marie-Reine-du-Monde (Mary, Queen of the World Cathedral) is Quebec's third largest church and certainly one of its most impressive.

Mary, Queen of the World Cathedral

McCord Museum

The McCord Museum of Canadian History owns a collection of artifacts, photos and documents illustrating the history of Canada and Montreal in particular from the settlement of the Amerindians to the twentieth century.

Christ Church Cathedral

Christ Church Cathedral is the mother church of the Anglican diocese of Montreal. The church was built in 1857-1860 at the instigation of Montreal's first Anglican bishop, Francis Fulford.

Front facade

Square Victoria

Square Victoria is a public square in the so-called Quartier international, a high-rise neighborhood in Montreal's business district. The highlight of the square is an authentic Art Nouveau metro entrance from around 1900.

Queen Victoria

Place Jean-Paul Riopelle

Place Jean-Paul Riopelle

Place Jean-Paul Riopelle is a small square in downtown Montreal, bordered by Montreal's convention center. The main attraction of the square is an animated fountain with a display that includes a ring of fire.

Palais des Congrès

Notre-Dame-de-Bon-Secours

The chapel of Notre-Dame-de-Bon-Secours has a long history, closely linked to Marguerite Bourgeoys, who arrived in 1653 in the fledgling colonial settlement of Ville-Marie (now Montreal) to help with the education of the settlers' children.

Использованные источники:

- <http://www.aviewoncities.com>
- iloveenglish.ru