

British Houses

11 form

I know that British houses often have fitted carpets. They often have a small garden.

- 1 Do all British houses have gardens?

•2 How many rooms are there in a British house?

•3 Do British houses have fireplaces?

detached houses

semi-detached houses

terraced houses

- Брит. дом ленточной застройки (дом, стоящий в ряду одинаковых домов с общими стенами).

council house-

жилой дом, принадлежащий
муниципальному
совету

Bungalows-

- 1) бунгало, одноэтажная дача, дом с верандой;
- 2) будка

• properties: buildings and connected land - владение

exteriors: outside parts

- slate roofs: house coverings made from thin slices of dark, grey rock – крыши из

- stained glass: coloured glass arranged in a pattern - ВИТРАЖ

- railings: fence made of thin metal posts - ограда estates: large number of houses designed and built close together at the same time – ЖИЛОЙ МАССИВ

Types of houses

- British people live in a variety of different types of houses. There are detached and semi-detached houses, terraced houses, flats, council houses and bungalows. Many people live in detached and semi-detached houses in the suburbs or in villages. British people who live in or near town centres, on the other hand, tend to live in terraced houses.

- These houses are built in rows and are often close together and have few rooms. Many houses in British inner-city areas are blocks of flats. Some of these are homes to the wealthy; others are cheap council flats. British pensioners often live in bungalows in the suburbs or in villages. These are homes which have no stairs.