Eating in Britain

- British food has a bad reputation in Europe; but traditional home cooked food is as good as European cooking.
- A good example is the traditional British Sunday lunch which consists of roast-beef, roast potatoes and Yorkshire pudding. British people eat a lot of meat. Mineral water is not very common. The most popular drink with meals is tea.
- British Breakfast consists of cornflakes with milk, toasts with marmalade, honey and tea. They eat large meal at midday. At about 5 o'clock they have tea with bread and butter and cakes. In some families the midday meal is the chief one of the day. And in the evening they have a simple supper an ommlette, or sausages, sometimes bacon and eggs
