

Elephant Festival in India

One of the most colorful and spectacular festivals of India - Festival of elephants in Jaipur . The owners of the elephants painted from the beginning to the end of their trunks in different patterns.

Elephant in India for a long time considered to be a sacred animal. Residents of India highly revered this giant in homage and gratitude to organize the annual elephant festival.

The festival was revived relatively recently - in 2001 alone.

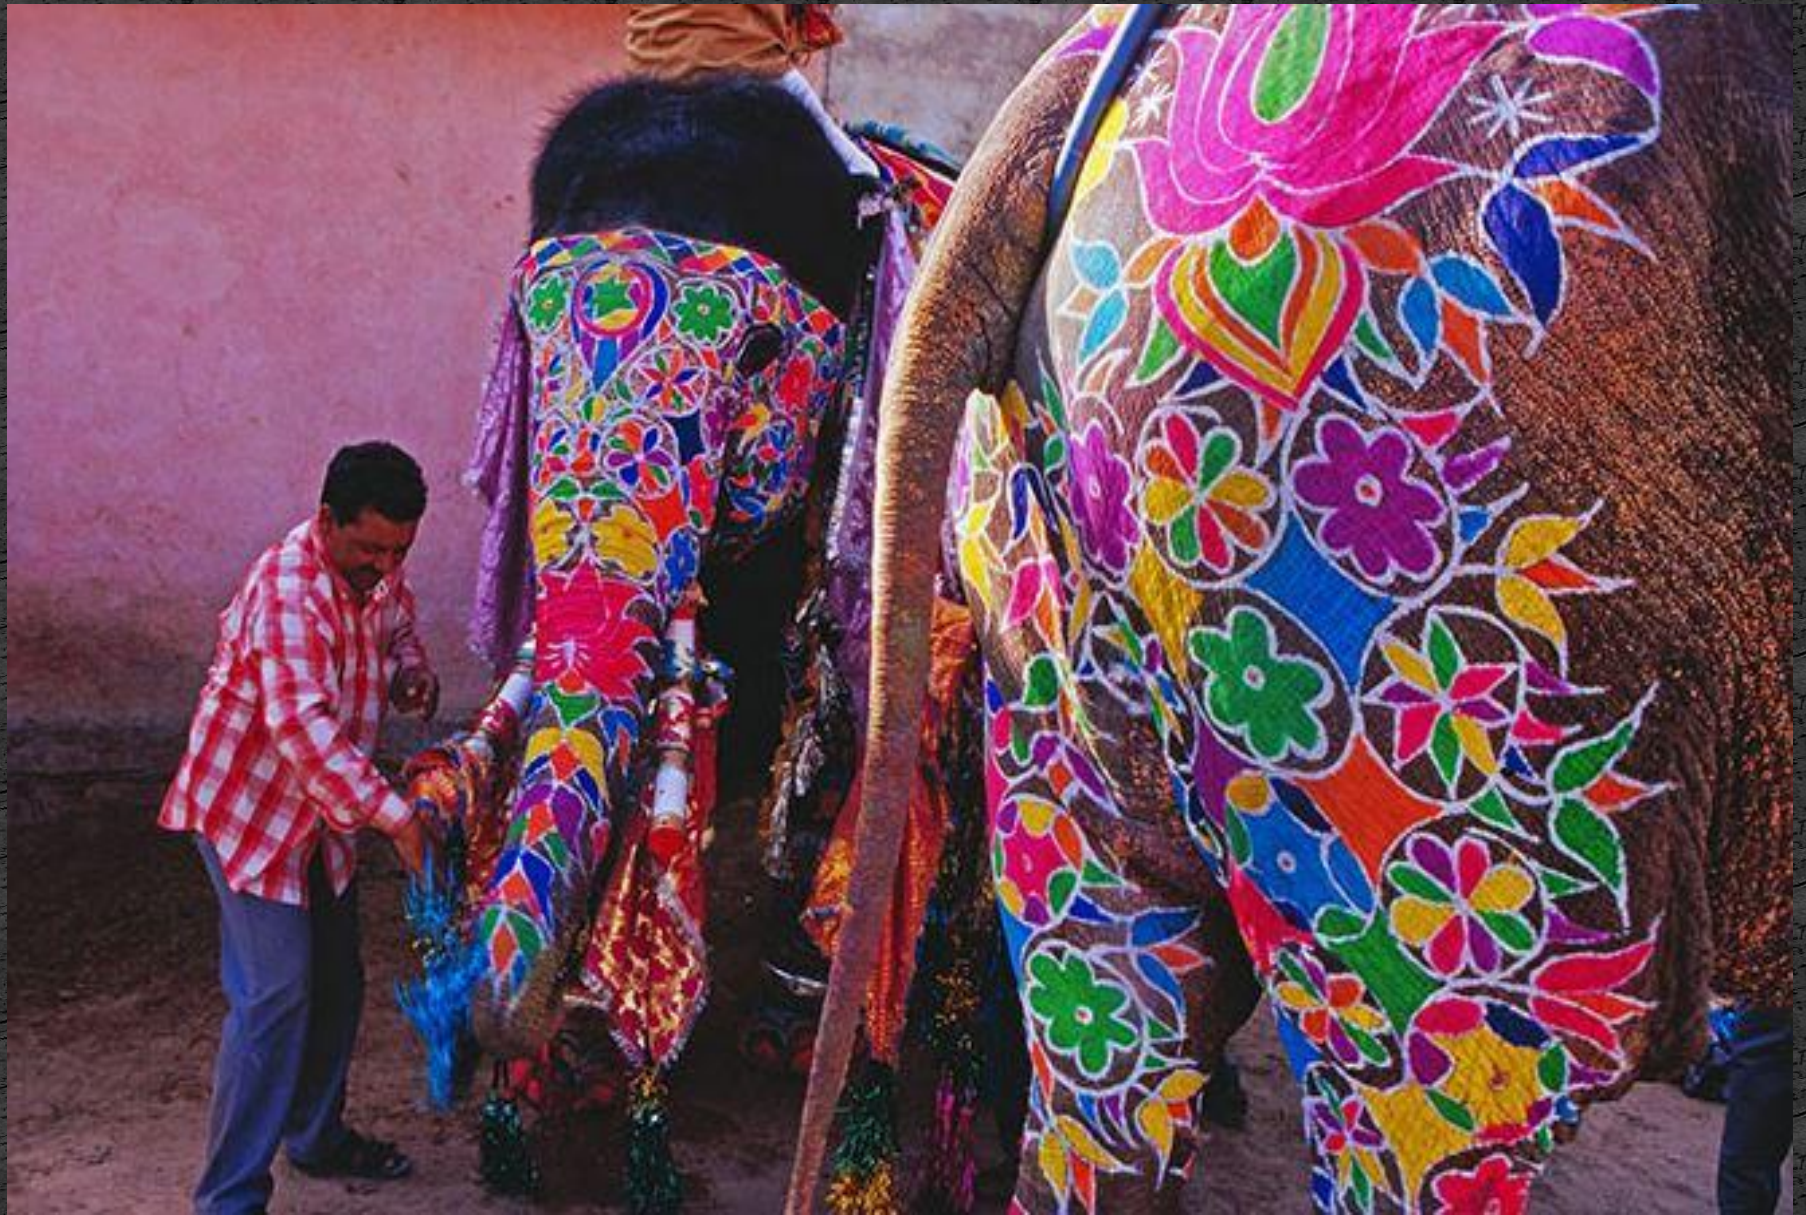

Patterns on the elephant is very beautiful and diverse

Gaurav Hajela
PHOTOGRAPHY

By the way, involved in the festival only elephant.

Each owner tries his best, because the winner is chosen at the end of the festival in the nomination "The most beautiful elephant."

festivals of India. Wonderful festival for the wonderful animals that deserve such attention and respect.

