

The Nature of Russia

The Urals (the Ural mountains) form a natural border between the continents.

The Volga river is the longest river in Europe. It flows into the Caspian Sea.

There are many beautiful old towns – both big and small – on its banks. Practically all of them are interesting places, famous for their history.

The Baltic Sea

Seas and oceans wash Russia in the north, south, east and west. The Black Sea is in the South; the Baltic Sea is in the West
