MUSEUM
FÜR ORIENTALISCHE KUNST

The image shows the exterior of the Museum für Orientalische Kunst. The building is constructed from reddish-brown bricks and features a prominent sign on the left side. The sign consists of two lines of text: "MUSEUM" on the top line and "FÜR ORIENTALISCHE KUNST" on the bottom line. The building has a modern architectural style with large, dark-framed windows. In the foreground, there are several green trees and bushes, and a paved area is visible on the left. The sky is overcast.
