

The image features two rows of stylized illustrations of teenagers. The top row shows three individuals: a girl in a yellow top and purple skirt with a yellow bag, a boy in a red shirt and blue jeans with a cap, and a girl in a green shirt and dark shorts with green heels. The bottom row shows four individuals: a girl in a grey jacket and blue jeans, a boy in a black polo shirt and white shorts, a girl in a pink shirt and dark shorts, and a boy in a green t-shirt and khaki shorts. The background is white with faint, repeating watermark icons.

The 9th of October
Friday

*What do teenagers of the XXI-st
century prefer?*

- - Clap your hands!
- - Hold somebody's hand!
- - Raise your eyebrow!
- - Blow your nose!
- - Comb your hair!
- - Nod your head!
- - Shake your hands!
- - Shrug your shoulders!
- - Brush your teeth!
- - Shake your head!

Proverbs: Parts of the body

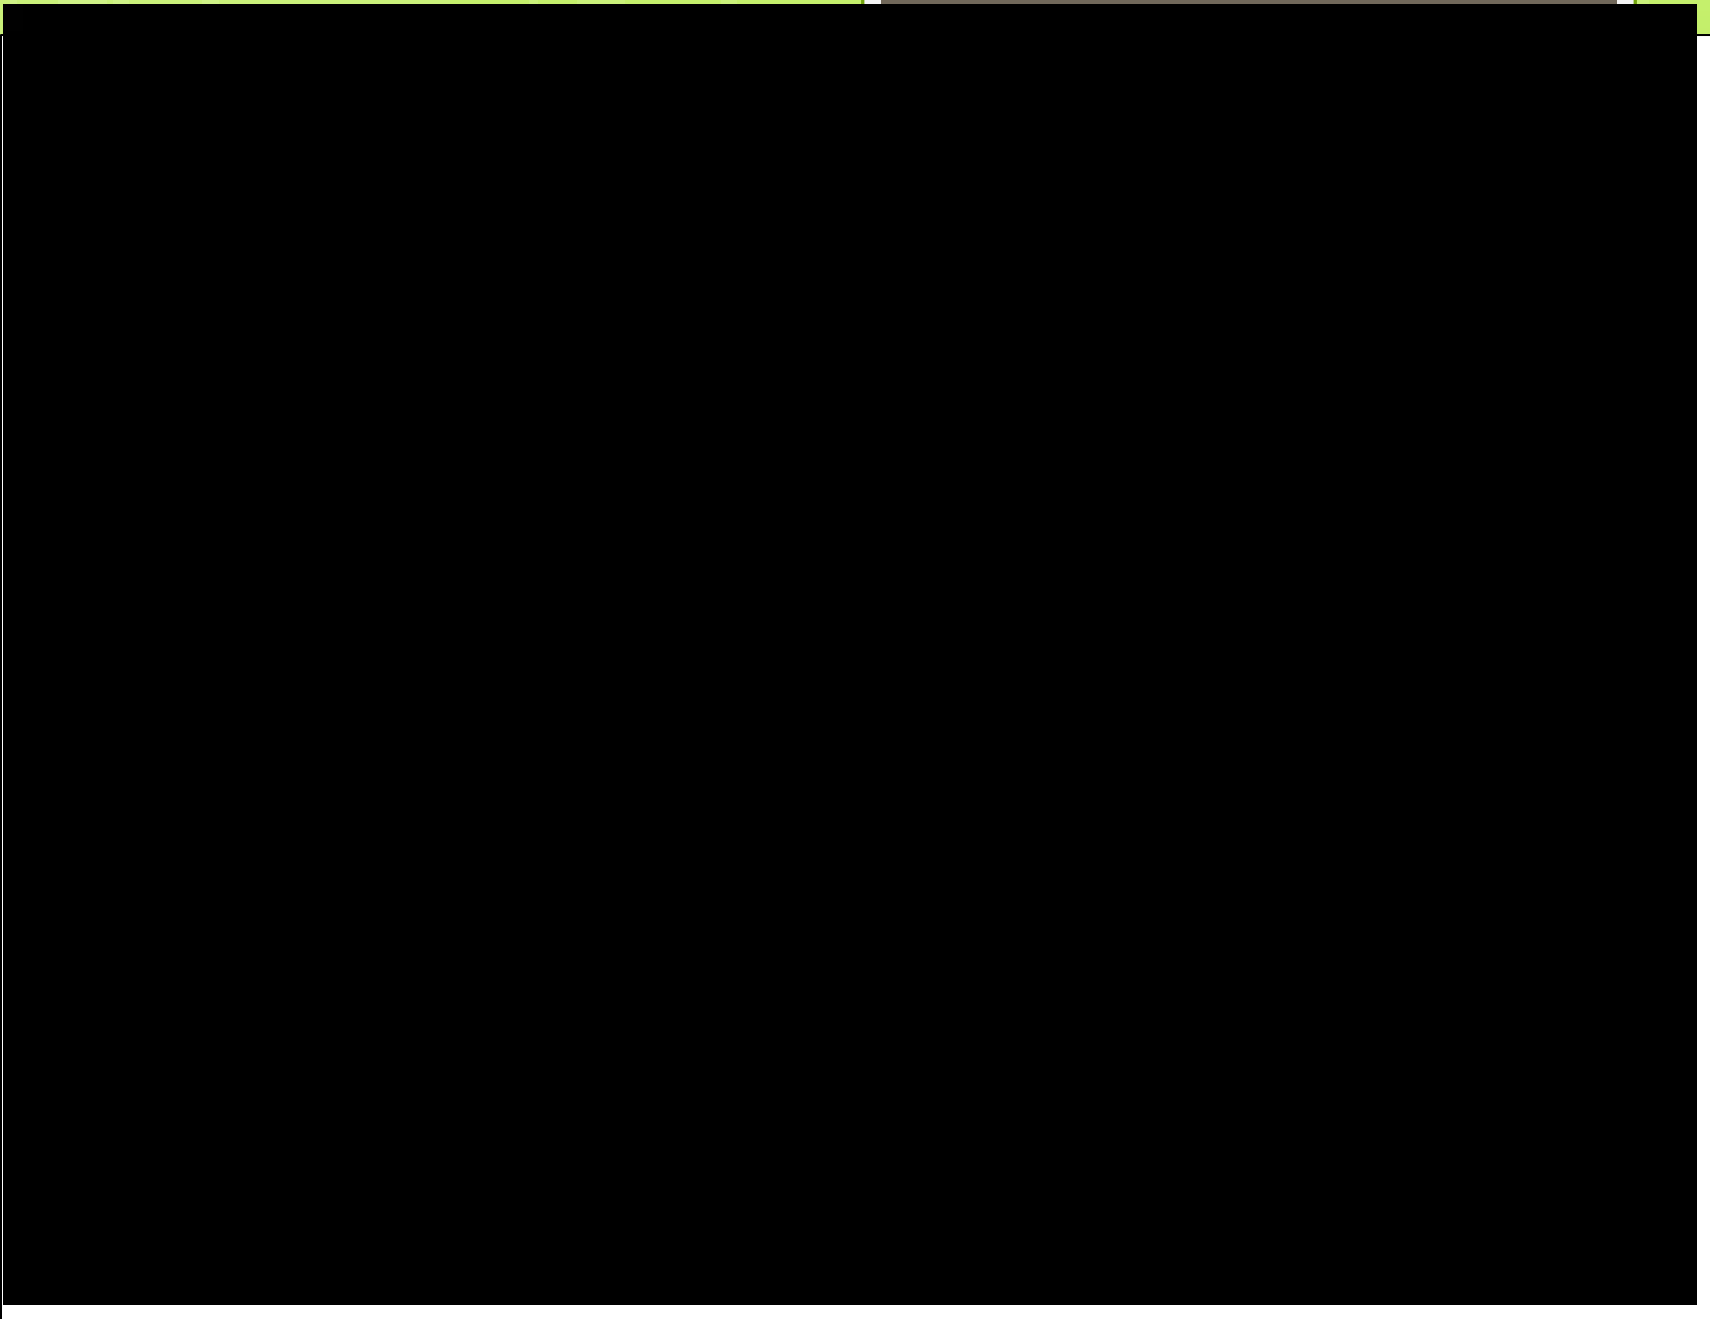

Home task: alternative medicine

Mother Nature is providential. She gives us twelve years to develop a love for our children before turning them into teenagers.

~William Galvin

□ Teenagers complain
there's nothing to do,
then stay out all night
doing it.

□ ~Bob Phillips

Participle 1

1

I saw a snake. I ran away.

Seeing a snake, I ran away.

Present participial phrase, + S + V

2

After I had had my breakfast, I went to school.

Having had my breakfast, I went to school.

Perfect participial phrase, + S + V

3

The theatre was full. We went home.

The theatre being full, we went home.

Home-task:

- ▣ Ex.6 retell the text
- ▣ Project: “Teenagers of the XXI st century”