According to the legend, the king of the kingdom Romulus founded Rome and the Romans themselves - Romulus. The ancient Roman historians determine the time of the foundation with great accuracy: they date it on April 21, 753 BC. e. Of course, this date is completely artificial, and can only be accepted conditionally.

The history of Ancient Rome, as a state formation, is due to a favorable geographical and climatic situation. It should be noted the location of the Apennine peninsula. Mountains Apennines stretch along the peninsula, in the north and south. It adjoins the western part of the coast, in the middle part - to the east.

Men's clothing in ancient Rome was represented by tunics of various cuts, some of which are very much resembled Greek dress. Trousers were not worn in Ancient Rome, they were considered clothes of barbarians.

The daily clothes of the Romans were a longer kind of tunic. The base of the female clothing of Ancient Rome was the elegant draperies descending down, and the stola was no exception. This form of clothing was considered a privilege of free married women who have an impeccable reputation.

Patricians communicated with friends, studied law, military art, visited libraries and entertainment institutions. Only they could hold government offices and be commanders. The plebeians in their majority were engaged in trade, various crafts. All work was done in the morning. Afternoon was used for rest and bathing with thermal waters. Notable Romans at this time could visit libraries, theatrical performances.
