The time when witches and sorlocks convene

In ancient times people made fires and danced around them. They hoped to frighten evil spirits and to bring warmth to their houses.

Children dress up, go from house to house and cry: “Trick or treat”? You are to give them some tasty things or they will play a trick on you.

The most popular costumes are of witches, skeletons, black cats, ghosts and other.

At Halloween parties children play traditional games. Many games date back to the harvest festivals of very ancient times.

One of the most popular is called bobbing for apples. One child at a time has to get apples from a tub of water without using hands. But how to do this? By sinking his or her face into the water and biting the apple!
