A Merry Christmas

Christmas in Great Britain

All English people celebrate Christmas on the 25th of December with evergreen tree

Christmas Christmas Day is the greatest holiday in England. People buy presents for each other, try to send Christmas cards for their relatives and friends. People open their presents on Christmas morning

Every year there is a big Christmas tree in Trafalgar Square.

When children go to bed, they put their stockings near their beds. At night Father Christmas comes. He puts presents into the children's stockings.
