

Booking a table at a restaurant

How to order at a café or a restaurant

- 1. What does the customer want to eat?
- 2. Does she want anything to drink?
- 3. How much does her order cost?
- 4. What means the phrase “the rest is for you”?

Menu

starters

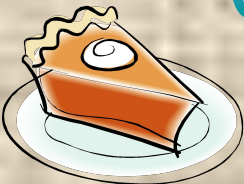

main course

raw, medium, well-done?

dessert

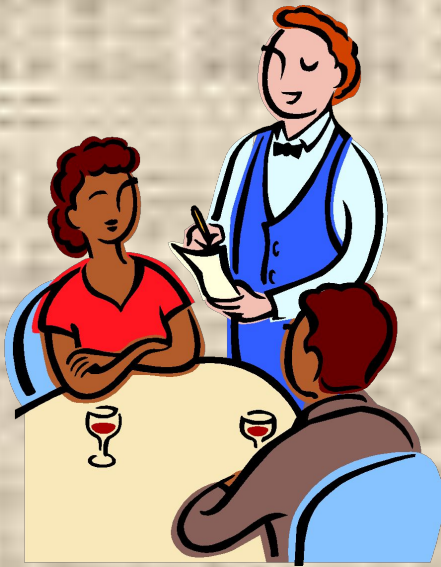

sauces

Which sentences belongs to the host/customer?

- 1) I'd like to book a table, please.
- 2) When would you like it for?
- 3) For how many people?
- 4) We'll be four.
- 5) For tomorrow evening, at 9 pm.
- 6) Could I also have a contact number?
- 7) What names should I book it under?
- 8) You're welcome.

Read the dialogue and complete the notes

Name:

Stephens

Contact number:

5698477

People:

four

Date:

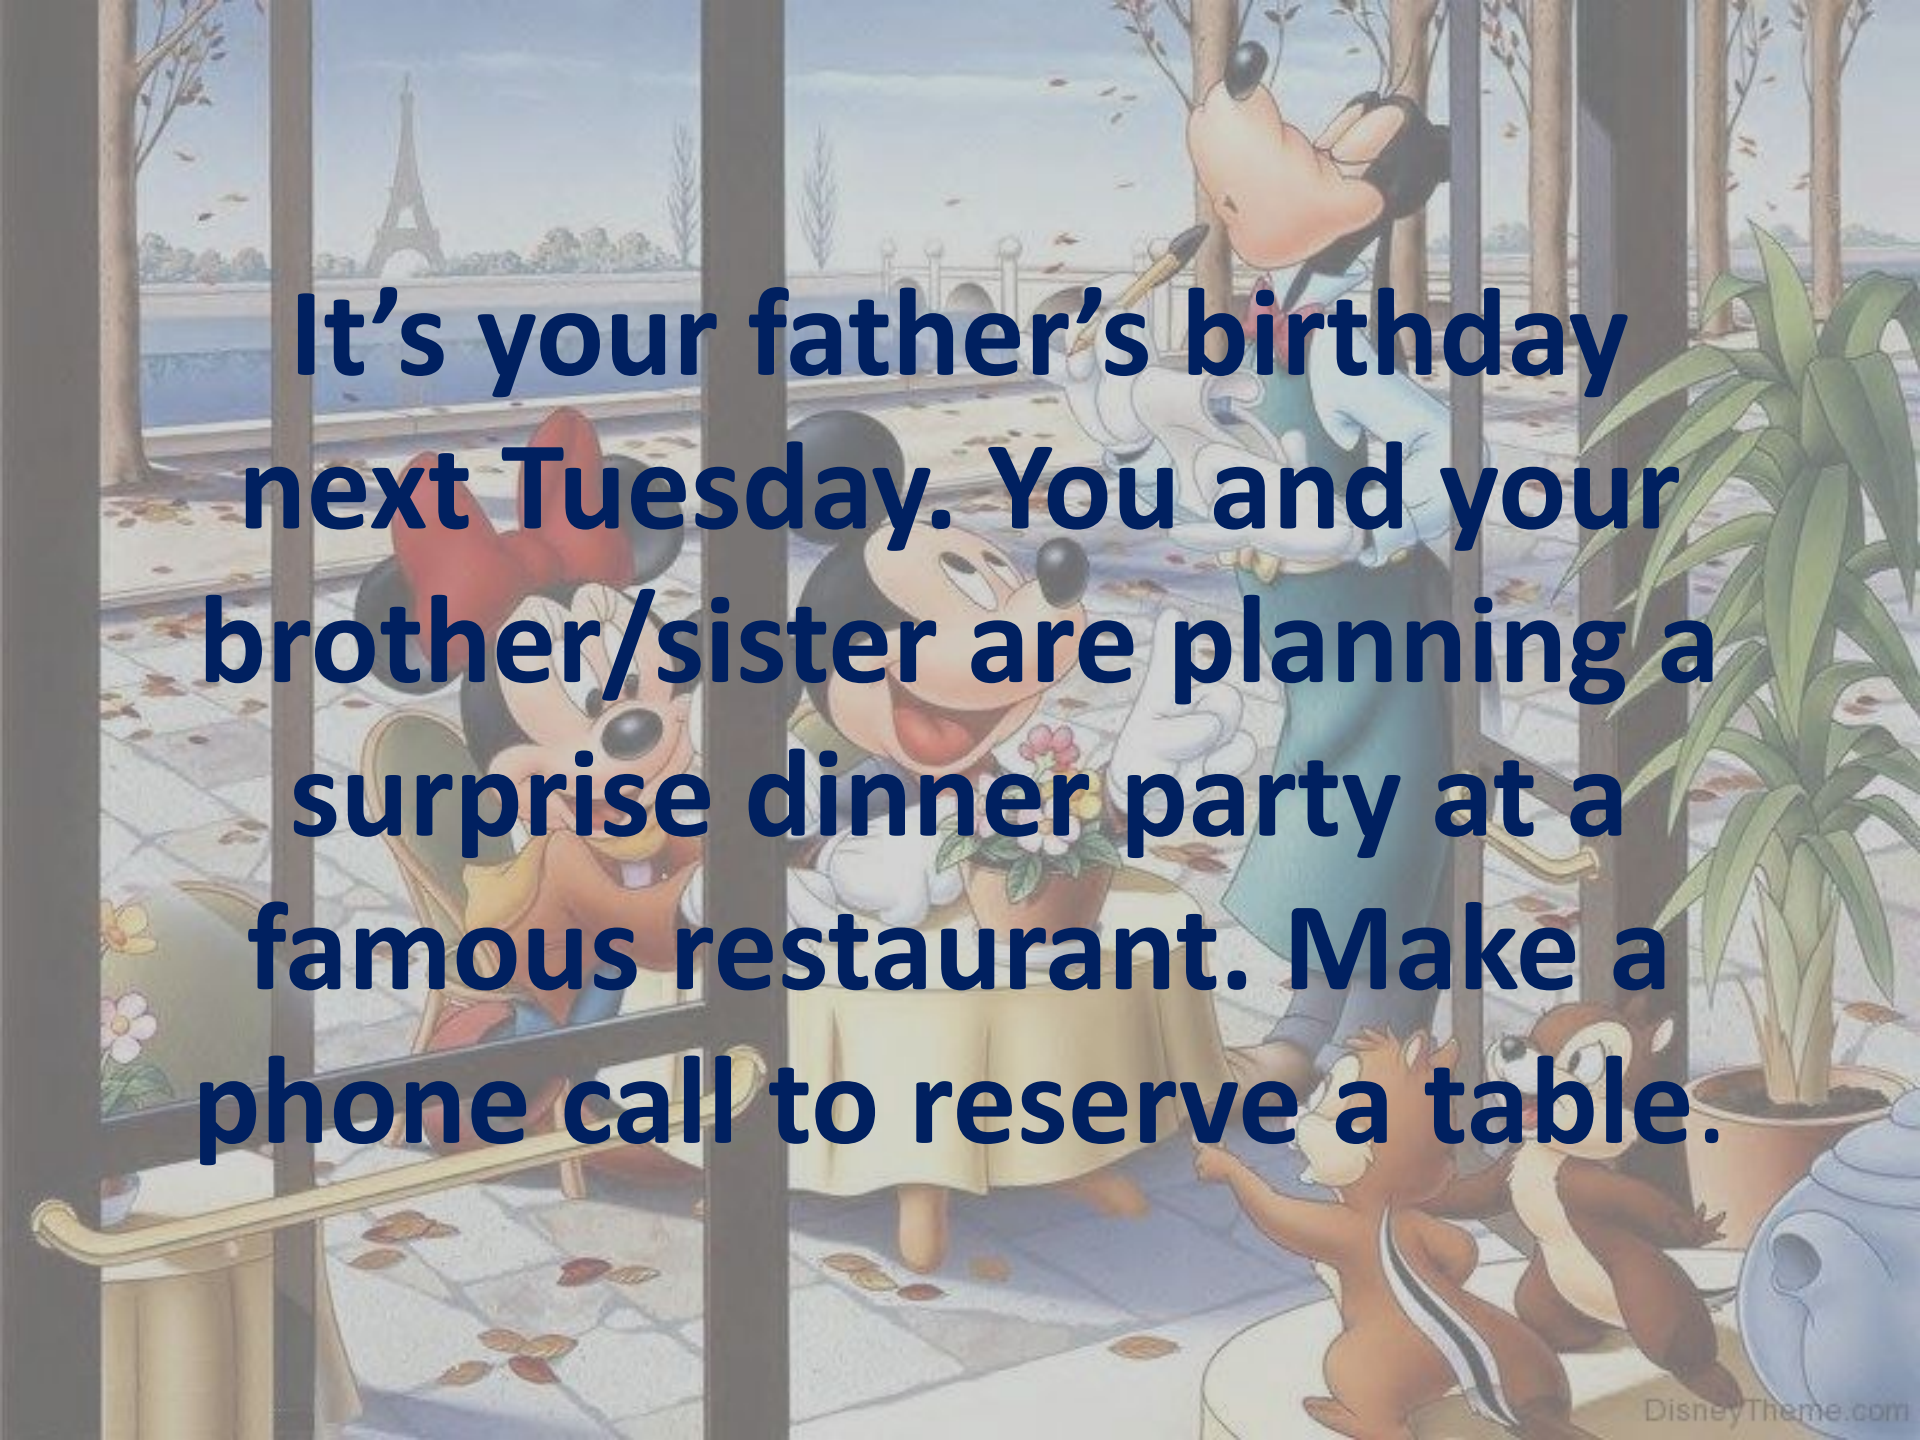

Tuesday, March 25

Time:

7 pm

Match the English and Russian sentences.

I'd like to book a table, please.	Конечно, пятьсот шестьдесят девять восемьдесят четыре семьдесят семь.
When would you like it for?	Конечно. На чье имя мне зарезервировать столик?
Could I also have a contact number?	Я бы хотел зарезервировать столик.
Certainly, sir. What name should I book it under?	На какое число вы бы хотели зарезервировать?
Sure, it's five six nine eight four double seven.	Вы могли бы оставить номер телефона для связи?

It's your father's birthday next Tuesday. You and your brother/sister are planning a surprise dinner party at a famous restaurant. Make a phone call to reserve a table.

H/t:

1)Ex. 10 p. 58(WB)

2)Ex. 2 p. 91(retell) SB