The Pilgrims – Sailing
to a new life!

A painting of a mountain landscape. The foreground shows rolling green hills. In the middle ground, there are several mountain peaks, some with patches of snow or light-colored rock. The sky is a vibrant blue with large, soft white clouds. The overall style is impressionistic, with visible brushstrokes and a rich color palette.

Voyage to America

*On September 6th 1620, 100 people
sailed from England for a better life in North America, a newly discovered land.*

They called this land 'the New World'

Their ship was called the Mayflower and its captain was Christopher Jones.

*Bad weather
made the voyage very difficult and many people became ill.*

*After 66
days,
these first
'Pilgrims'
finally saw land.*

They settled in an area where they started a new town, Plymouth.

A painting of a mountain landscape. The foreground features rolling green hills. In the middle ground, a valley opens up, showing a small settlement or farmstead. The background consists of large, rugged mountains under a bright blue sky with scattered white clouds. The overall style is impressionistic, with visible brushstrokes and a vibrant color palette.

Life in the New World

At first, life wasn't easy for Pilgrims, and only about half of them survived their first winter.

The Native Americans who lived there taught them how to fish and hunt and grow crops, such as corn.

A painting of a landscape with green hills, a blue sky, and a mountain range in the background. The style is impressionistic with visible brushstrokes. The foreground shows rolling green hills. In the middle ground, there are more hills and a valley. In the background, there are dark, jagged mountain peaks under a bright blue sky with white clouds. The overall mood is bright and celebratory.

Celebrating the First Harvest

In the fall of 1621, the Pilgrims had a big feast with all the foods from their first harvest.

Every year after that, the people had a similar celebration, and this harvest feast soon became a very important American tradition called Thanksgiving.

A landscape painting featuring a mountain valley. The foreground is dominated by rolling green hills. In the middle ground, a valley opens up, showing a small town or village nestled between the hills. The background consists of more distant, hazy mountains under a bright blue sky filled with soft, white clouds. The overall style is that of a classic landscape painting, with visible brushstrokes and a rich color palette.

Thanksgiving Today!

Families get together and share a huge meal on the fourth Thursday in November.

*This usually includes roast turkey, sweet
potato, corn,
cranberry sauce and pumpkin pie. It's delicious!*

A painting of a mountain landscape. The foreground shows rolling green hills. In the middle ground, there is a valley with a small town or village.
