The sights

- Kuibyshev Square
- Samara quay
- Strukovsky garden
- Square of Glory
- Stalin's bunker

Kuibyshev Square

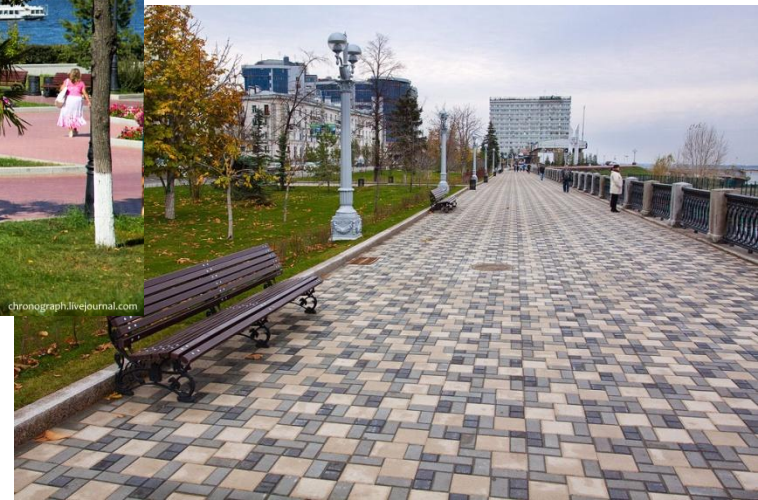

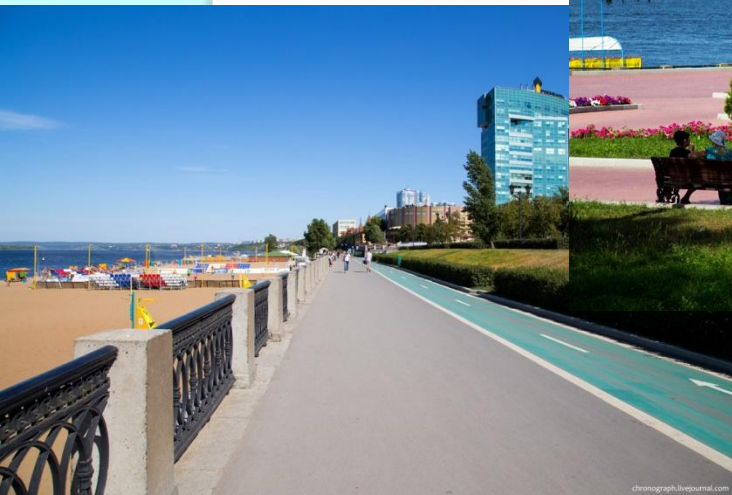

The size of this Square is the largest area in Europe and the fifth central city in the world, 17.5 hectares.

It should be noted that Kuibyshev Square Samara is famous for the fact that it November 7, 1941 held one of the two military parades. In Kuibyshev, the country's second military parade received Chairman of the Supreme Soviet of the USSR Mikhail Kalinin. While most Soviet institutions were evacuated just in Samara.

Samara quay

Samara embankment terraces descending to the Volga, has a length of more than five kilometers and divided by into four sections. It is the largest promenade in Europe. It provides ample opportunities for recreation - restaurants and cafes, a beach holiday (public and private beaches), biking, rollerblading, children's and sports playgrounds.

Strucovsky garden

Samara's oldest park, located on the banks of the Volga. It has a lot of flower beds and landscape compositions: hippo, symbol of the city - mountain goat, huge chess figures. There are fountains, children's attractions, cafes. In summer, every weekend brass band playing in the park.

Every year in August in the garden Strukovsky runs one of the most beautiful holidays Samara - Flower Festival.

Square of Glory

In the center is a symbol of Samara - the Monument of Glory. The monument was created in honor of the workers of the aviation industry of the city during the war. On the 40-meter pedestal is 13-meter figure of the worker, holding the wings in his raised hands. Near Eternal Fire. Behind him - Church of the Great Martyr George the Victorious, and the monument to Peter and Fevronia of Murom, patrons of the family.

Stalin's bunker

One of the most interesting and mysterious museums Samara. It was built specifically for the Supreme Commander of the Armed Forces of the Soviet Union Joseph Stalin.

The bunker is located at a depth of 37 m. Built in 1942, declassified in 1990. At the moment, construction is one of the largest bunkers in the world. It is a personal Stalin's office, which has a lot of false doors and secret exits.
