

Much or many?

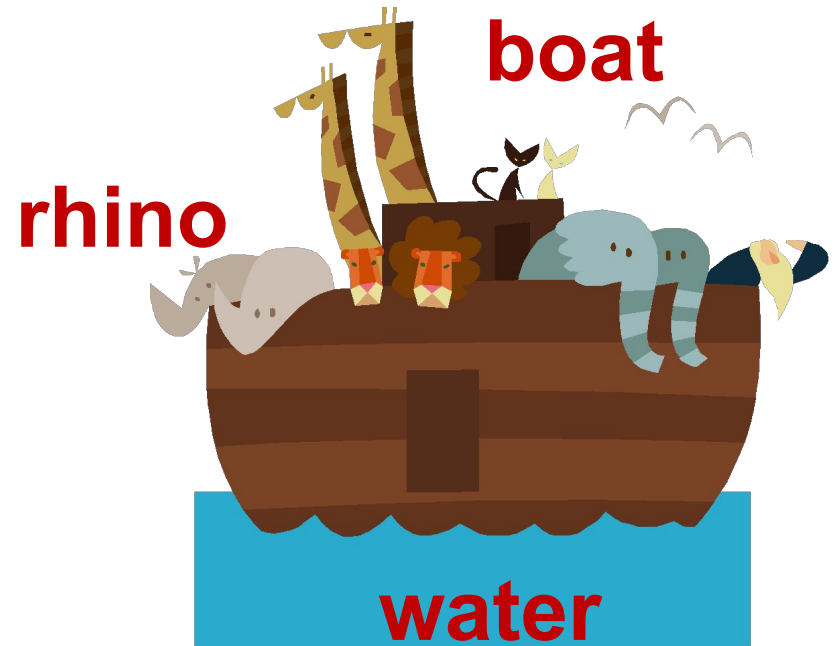

Can you count these things?

flower

sand

sugar

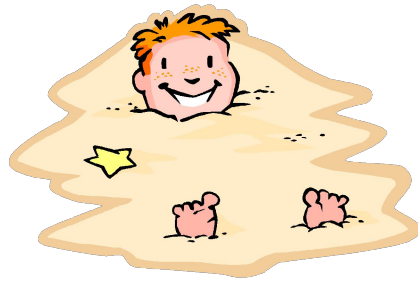

grape

Do they make sensible plurals?

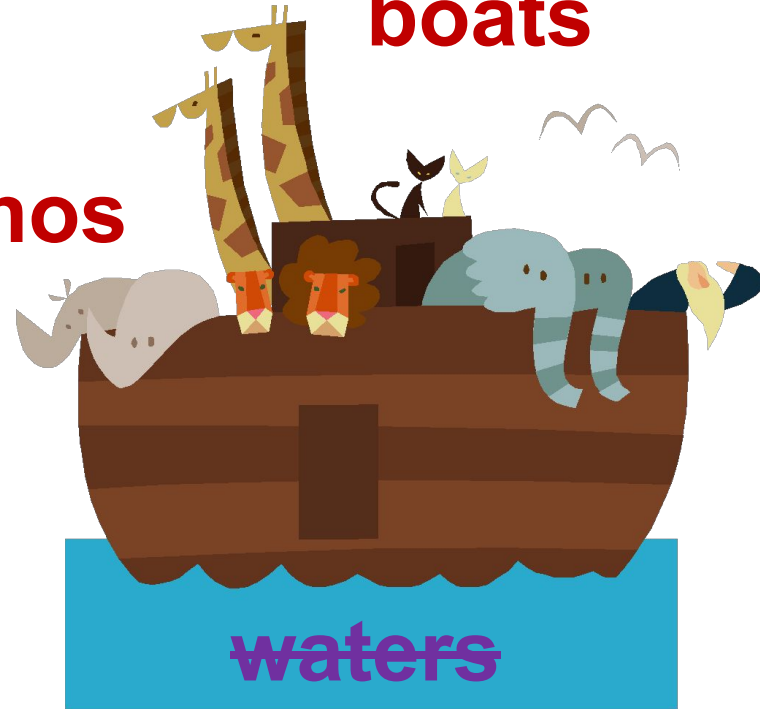

flowers

sands

rhinos

boats

waters

sugars

grapes

If you can count it, use 'many'

Too many flowers

If you can count it, use 'many'

I ate so many
grapes that I felt sick.

If you can count it, use 'many'

How many
boats can you see?

If you can't count it, use 'much'

How much
sand do you need?

If you can't count it, use 'much'

*There is too
much water
on the floor!
Clean it up!*

Much or many?

For countable things,
use many

For non-countable
things, use much

How much orange juice do you want?

How many
cookies do you eat?

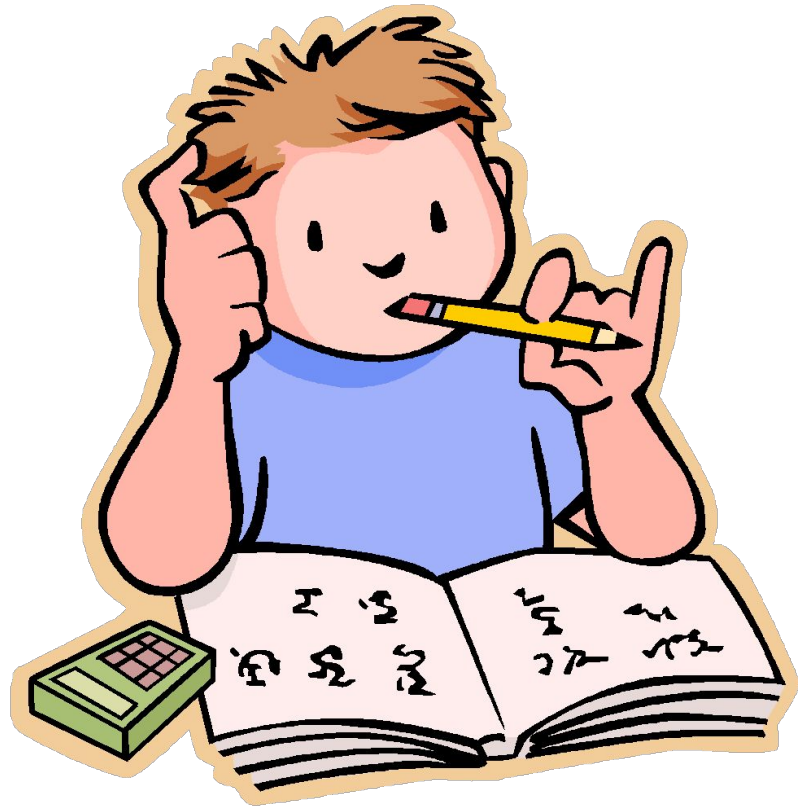

There are too
many people
in line.

He put so much salt
in the soup
that it tasted
horrible.

The teacher
gave us too
much homework.

I saw many toucans in the tree.

Now try these

1. How much homework do you have?
2. How much sugar do you want in your tea?
3. How many apples are there?
4. How many teachers do you see?
5. How much milk do you want?
6. How many desks do you see?
7. How many books are on the desk?
8. How much work do you have?
