

PART 2

cortandopixeles.com.ar

WINDSOR CASTLE

Windsor Castle is a famous home of Queen Elizabeth II of England. It is the largest castle in the world that is still lived in. It is open to visitors all year round. Founded by William the Conqueror in the 11th century, it has since been the home of 39 monarchs.

Today the Queen uses the Castle for State occasions and official events. Her Majesty also spends her weekends here.

WINDSOR CASTLE

Upper Ward, Windsor Castle

St George's Chapel within the grounds of Windsor Castle is one of the finest examples of Gothic architecture in England. The Chapel has been the location of many royal weddings including HRH Prince Harry and Ms Meghan

St. George's Chapel

MADAME TUSSAUDS MUSEUM

Madame Tussauds is a wax museum in London. It was founded by wax sculptor Marie Tussaud.

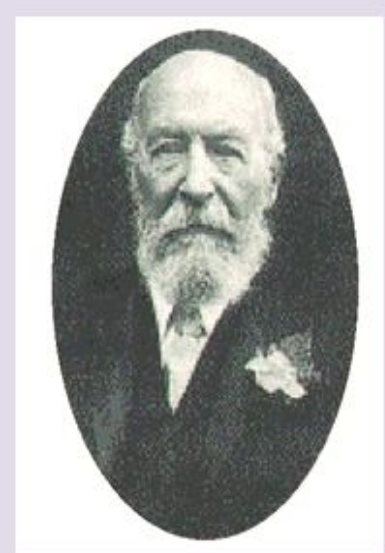

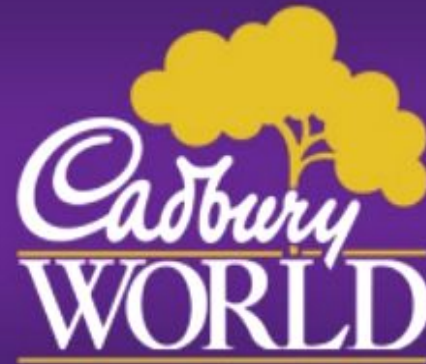

Madame Tussauds and the London Planetarium.

This museum is a major tourist attraction in London, displaying the waxworks of famous and historic people and also popular film characters. The museum is situated in Marylebone Road.

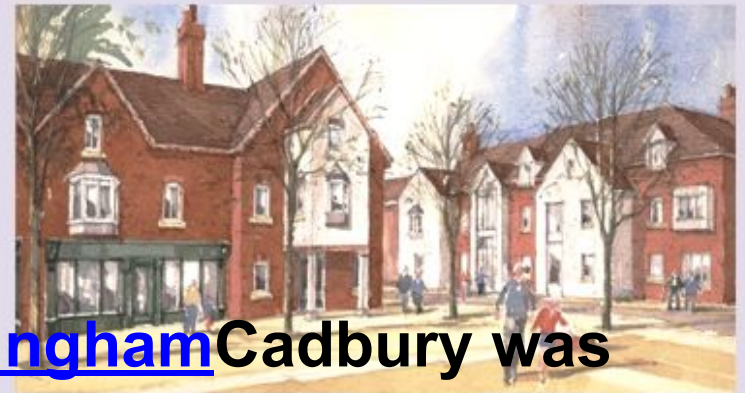

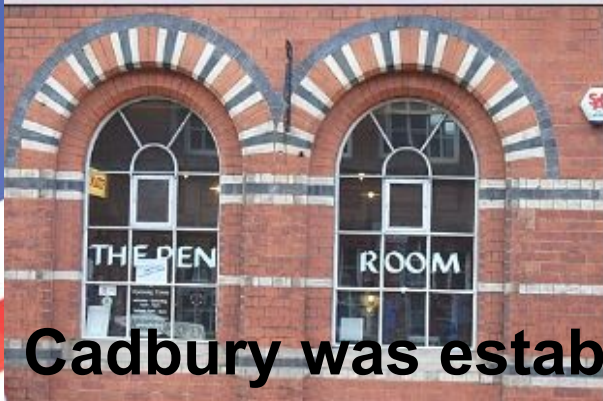

There are several halls at Madame Tussaud's: the Grand Hall, the Chamber of Horrors and The Spirit of London exhibition. The wax figures are extremely realistic.

Madame Tussaud herself at the wax museum in London

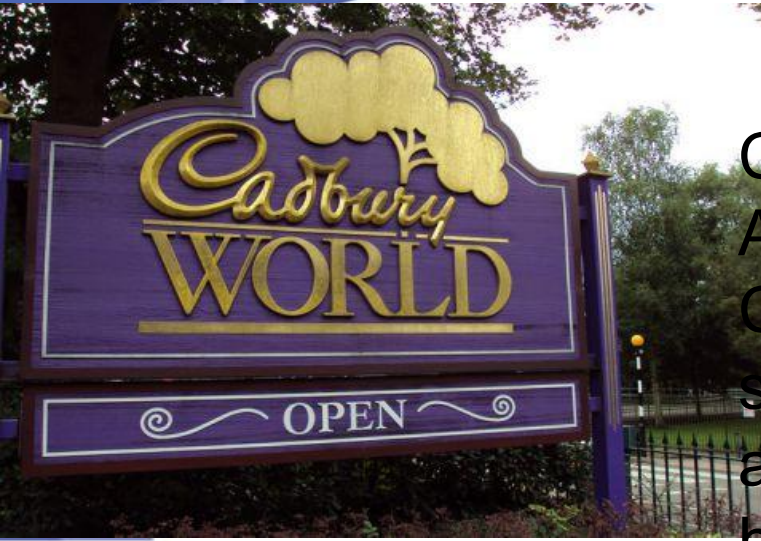

Cadbury World.

It was founded in 1824 by John Cadbury.

Cadbury was established in Birmingham Cadbury was established in Birmingham, England in 1824, by John Cadbury who sold tea, coffee and drinking chocolate.

Cadbury World sign

Cadbury World was opened on 14 August 1990 by Morgan Anderson on Cadbury's Bournville manufacturing site. Cadbury World is a very popular attraction in England that shows you how chocolate was invented, how it is made and why it is such a wonderful food.

THE GOLDEN MILE

The Golden Mile is the name given to the stretch of Promenade between the North and South piers in Blackpool, England. It emerged in the late 19th century. It received its nickname later. The promenade is actually 1.6 miles (2.6 km) in length. At night the Golden Mile is lit by thousands of brightly coloured lights.

STRATFORD-UPON-AVON, WILLIAM'S SHAKESPEARE'S BIRTHPLACE

Town Stratford-upon-Avon is a popular tourist destination owing to its status as birthplace of English playwright and poet William Shakespeare, and receives approximately 2.5 million visitors a year.

W. Shakespeare's Birthplace

Stratford-upon-Avon, England

W. Shakespeare's elder daughter's house

ROMAN BATHS IN BATH, ENGLAND.

Bath is one of the largest cities in England, known for its Roman-built baths. Bath is in the valley of the river Avon, 97 miles (156 km) west of London and 11 miles (18 km) south-east of Bristol. The city became a World Heritage Site in 1987

THE PALACE PIER AT BRIGHTON

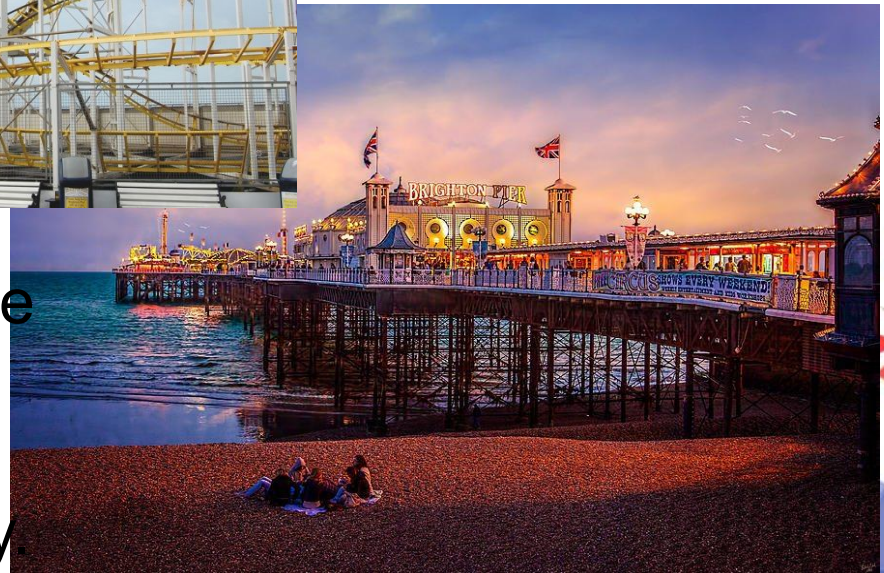

The English coastline is famous for its piers and the Palace Pier at Brighton is one of the most impressive examples.

The Palace Pier was constructed as a replacement for the Chain Pier, which collapsed in 1896 during construction. It became popular, and had become a frequently-visited theatre and entertainment venue by 1911. The Palace Pier remains a popular tourist attraction

The Turbo roller coaster at the end of Brighton Palace Pier

Into the 21st century

CANARY WHARF

Canary Wharf is a commercial estate and locality in between Poplar, Canary Wharf, view east from Cabot Square.

Millwall and Limehouse on the Isle of Dogs in Greater London in the London Borough of Tower Hamlets.

It is one of the main financial centres of the United Kingdom, along with the City of London and contains many of Europe's tallest buildings.

STONEHENGE

Stonehenge is one of England's most famous prehistoric monuments and is over 4,000 years old. Archaeologists believe it was constructed from 3000 BC to 2000 BC.

It consists of a ring of standing stones with each standing stone around 13 feet (4.0 m) high, 7 feet (2.1 m) wide and weighing around 25 tons.

Stonehenge at sunset