

Unusual and Unique Homes from around the world

Home is where your heart and family is!

- Everyone wants to feel comfortable in their own houses. Different people have different taste when it comes to housing. Some people like small houses, some like it big and glamorous. And of course unusual houses attract everyone's attention.

Home is where your heart and family is!

That's why architects all over the world are competing who will make the most interesting and unusual house. Sometimes it may not be so pleasant to live in such a house but they sure look fantastic.

The Snail house

The Snail house

- The Snail house, in Mexico. It is a really very beautiful house not only outside but inside too. A young family with 2 children in Mexico City has it. It was built in 2006. This family was tired living in an usual house and wanted to change to one integrated to nature. Smooth Surfaces, spiral straits and natural paintings make you feel like you are living a snail.

The Goat house

house China*

The Piano and Violin house, China

- The violin, made completely out of glass, serves as the entry to the house, linking the elevated piano to the ground. The piano portion of the house stands on 3 concrete legs and features root terrace beneath a canopy shaped like the piano's open top.
