

A virtual reality

Technologies develop with time and now we have a lot of them. They make life easier. I want to talk about devices of virtual reality.

These devices are unusual. We can create virtual worlds, and with the help of devices to be inside these worlds. These are the devices: virtual reality glasses, games and programs (which simulate the world and others), 3D images, 360-degree video.

Virtual reality is an extraordinary atmosphere, now we have created a direct connection to the human nervous system, so that we can all feel it.

Virtuality is slowly entering culture (they are making large-scale films).

I believe that the development of technology is good. If they can help people and make life better. We must learn to live with what we have created.

We are waiting for the future
