THE RIGHTS YOU'VE HEARD

- To speak freely
- To get educated
- To choose the work you like
- To be equal with other people
- To be protected against religious discrimination

THE RIGHTS WERE NOT MENTIONED

- To choose the climate you want to live in
- To get a driving licence at the age of 14
- To know what your rights are
- To be protected against strict teachers

In 1948, the United Nations wrote the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. It listed 29 different human rights. According to the declaration, every person has the right to speak freely, to marry whomever she/he wants, to choose the work he/she likes and to get an education. The list of human rights includes protection against cruel punishment and protection against racial, ethnic, sexual and religious discrimination. These rights are important for people throughout the world. But in some countries people live without these rights. People still practise racism and discriminate against others.
