

Means of communication in the Ancient World

alphabet

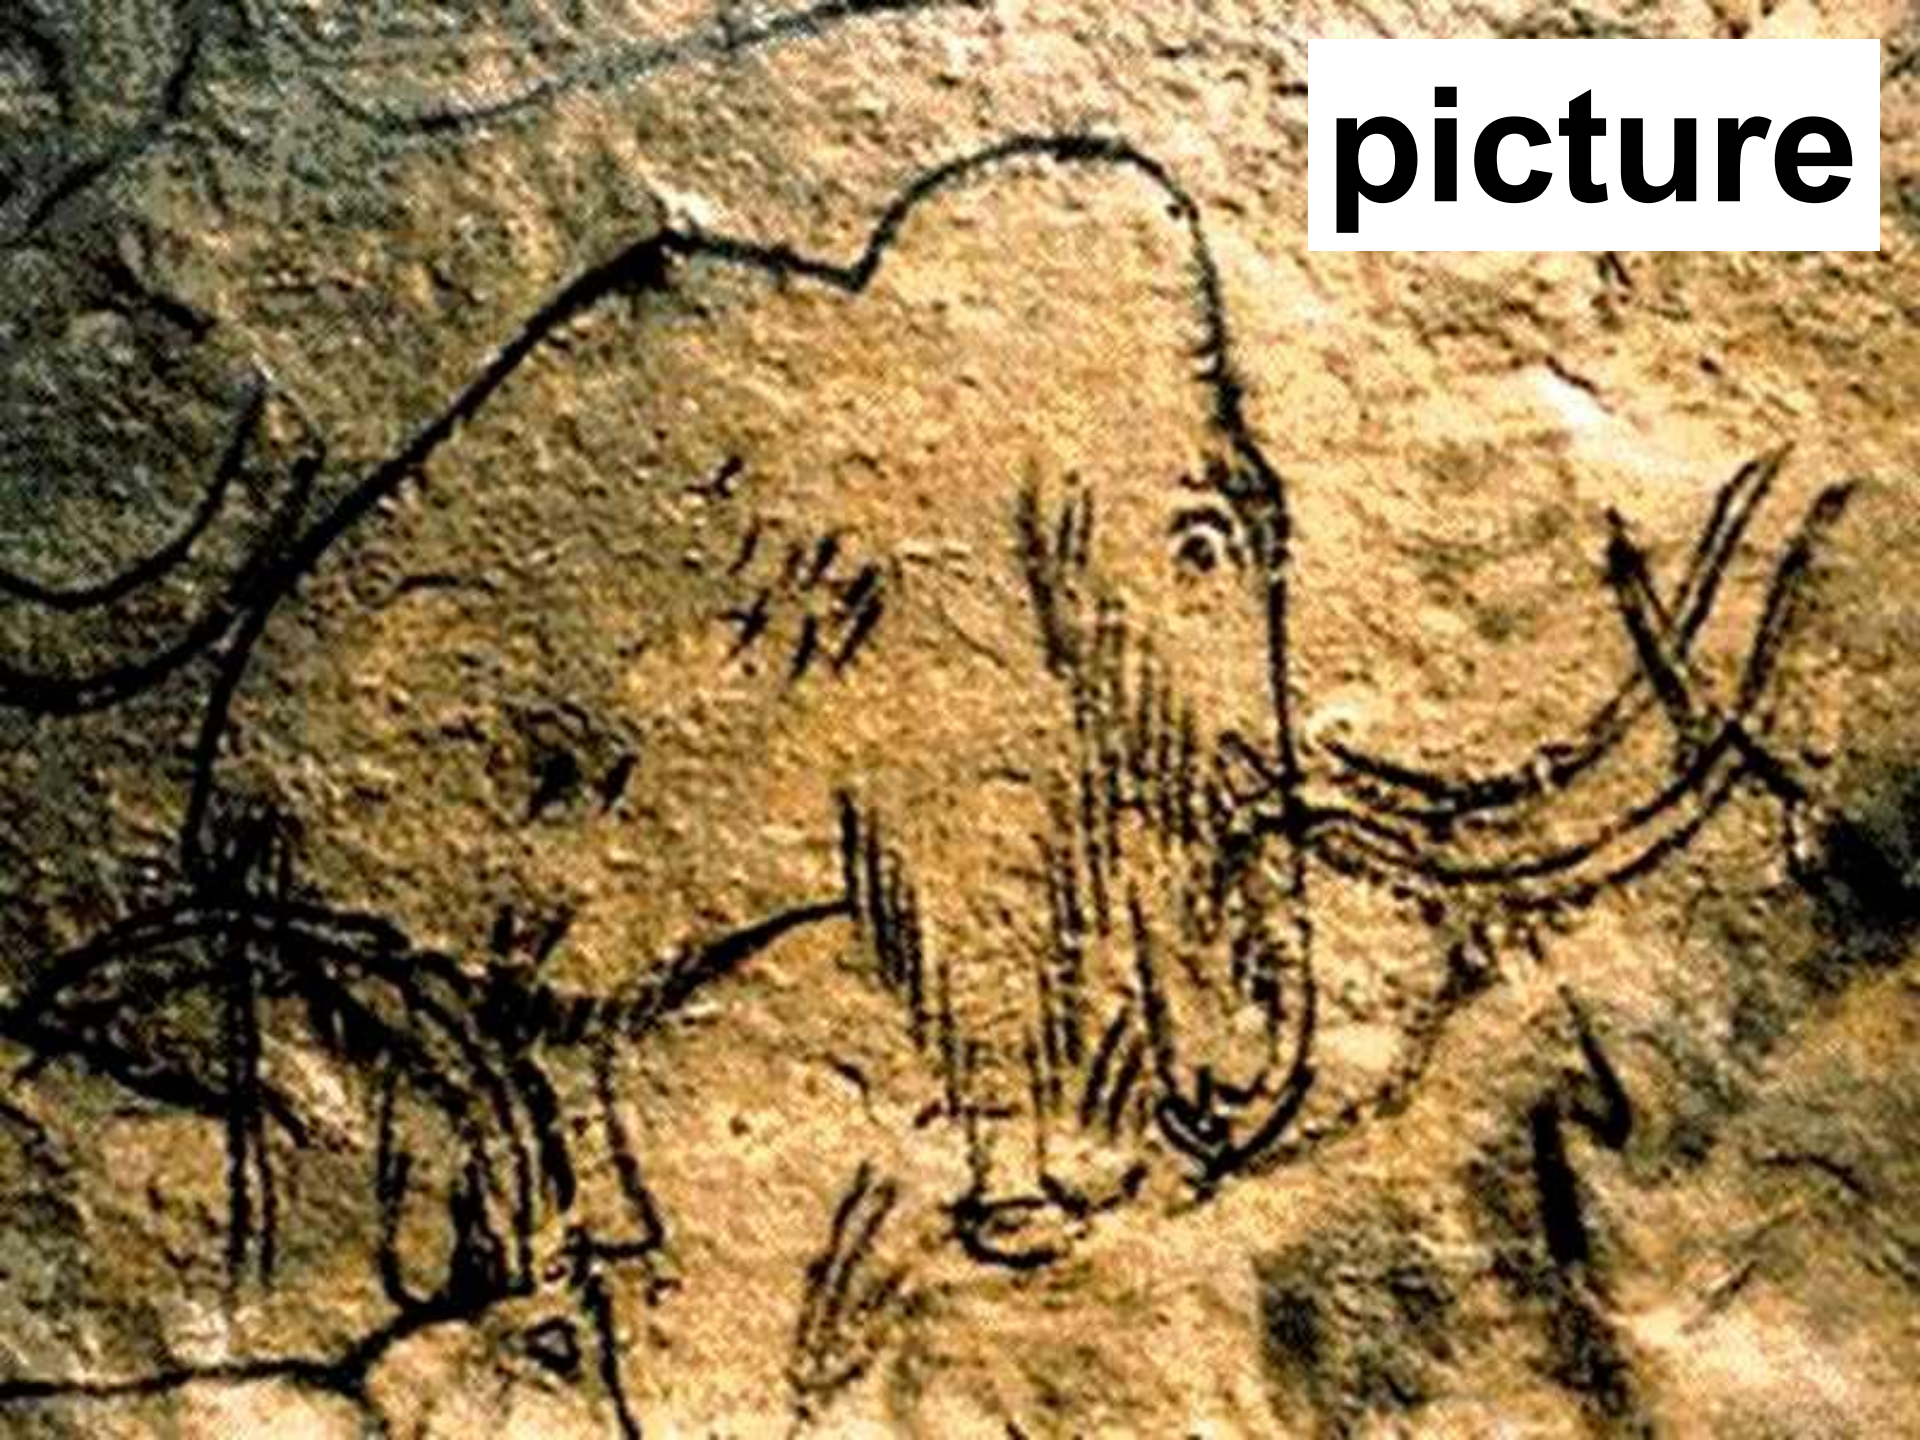

hands

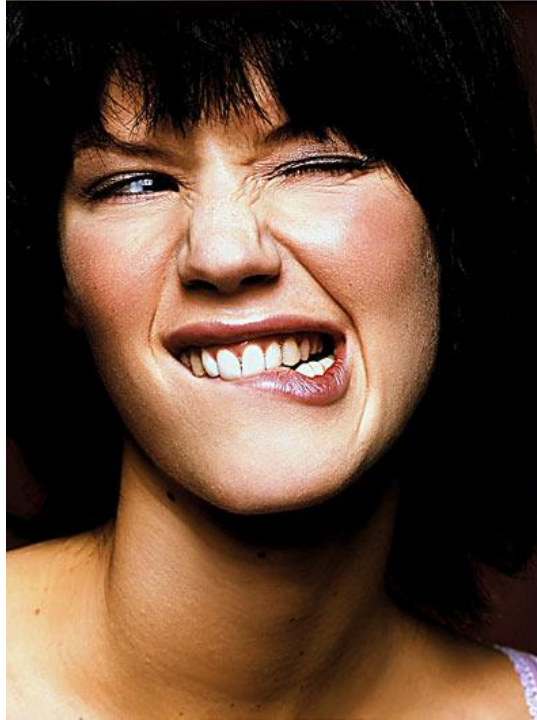

fire

picture

mimics

voice

Means of communication in the 18-19th centuries

books

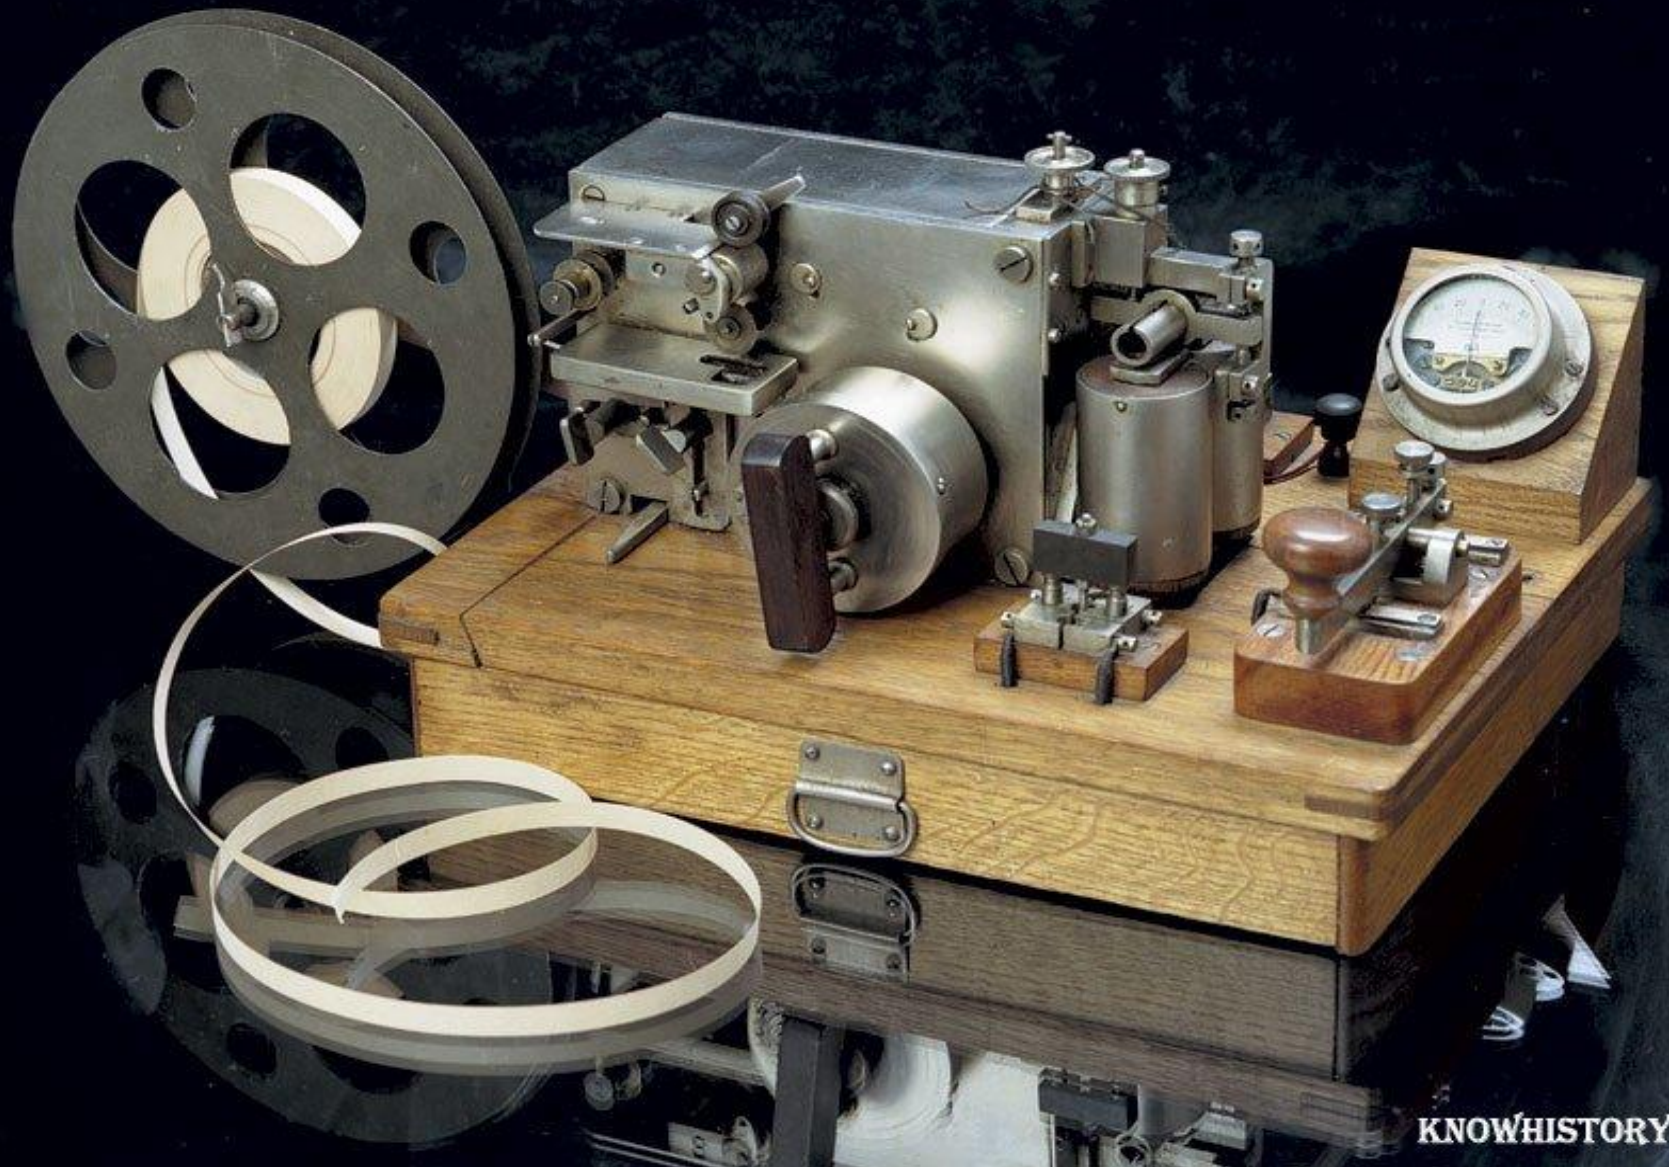

flowers

telephone

telegraph

letter

resident
as Inc
Lupp Dr
le, MN 55337
A

Lexington SC 29072-2836, N.C. 29072-2836,
SA.

29072/2836 02

An aerial photograph of a city harbor, likely New York City, showing a dense urban landscape with numerous skyscrapers and a large body of water with several ships. The text "Means of communication in the Modern World" is overlaid diagonally across the center of the image.

Means of communication in the Modern World

computer

television

satellite

mobile phone

fax machine

- a) means of writing communication system by using Morse's electronic alphabet
- b) means of visual information
- c) smoke signal
- d) mean of chat communication through network and websites
- e) vocal means of distance communication
- f) units of writing means of communication
- g) means of feelings, emotions and ideas
- h) facial means of communication
- i) space communication system
- j) means of art communication in paintings
- k) means of communication through gestures
- l) means of communication through sending and receiving urgent messages
- m) the first source of knowledge
- n) means of writing communication
- o) main means of communication through sounds and loudness
- p) cordless means of distance communication and a messenger unit