Victory Day

In Russia and other countries Victory Day, or 9th May, is one of the great holidays of the year. It is a holiday of all people.

In all towns there are decorations, flags and placards in the streets, in the shop windows and on the front of large buildings.

On that day there is military parade in all big cities of our country but the largest parade takes place on the Red Square in Moscow.

Beside the military parade, there is a tradition to lay wreathes to the Tomb of Unknown Soldier.

In 2012 it was the first time when people took in the Immortal Regiment march. Since that year thousand of people in many cities take part in the Immortal Regiment march. People take part in it with the photos of their relatives who took part in war actions.

We congratulate all veterans. Flowers and souvenirs are given to those who took part in the Great Patriotic War.

squares, at theatres, cinemas and concert halls.
They are all celebrating their holiday. Many people go to see their friends or go for walks in the parks.

In the evening there is a holiday salute and a minute of silence to remember all those who did not come back from the war.
