

Pets in Russia and Great Britain.

Many people like animals. People in Russia and Great Britain like animals, too.

The 1st place

The most popular domestic animal in both countries is the cat. In Russia 37% of people have cats. Most of them are not purebred.

The most popular names for them are:
Musya, Barsik, Murka, Kuzya and Vas'ka.

In the UK
people call cats such as Molly,
Charlie,
Tiger,
Poppy and Oscar.

The 2nd place

Dogs are on the second place in Russia and in Great Britain. But in the UK more and more people have dogs and in some years dogs will probably be on the first place.

The most popular names for dogs in Russia are: Rex, Jack, Bim, Najda, Jim and Sharik.

In the UK people call dogs such as Molly, Max, Charlie, Holly and Poppy.

The 3rd place

Birds are on the third place in both countries. Many people in Russia have parrots. Their names are: Kesha, Roma, Kiryusha and Lili.

English birds have such names as Polly and Chatterbox.

The 4th place

The 4th place in Russia and the UK is different. In our country it is fish, in Great Britain they are hamsters.

The 5th place

On the 5th place in the list in our country they are hamsters, tortoise and guinea pigs. In the UK it is fish.

Russia and Great Britain are very far from each other, but they are very alike. People like animals in both countries.
