March Seventeen
Don't be seen
Unless you're wearing
A touch of green.
A skirt, a shirt
A button, a sock –
A splash of green
From the old shamrock.
If you don't wear green
So, the Irish say –
You deserve a pinch
For St. Patrick's day!

Saint Patrick's Day is a holiday that began in Ireland. Saint Patrick is the patron saint of Ireland but he was not Irish. He was born in England and he went to Ireland to work as a missionary and teach Christianity to the Irish.

Saint Patrick's Day is celebrated on March 17th because it is the day that Saint Patrick died. This day is an important religious holiday in Ireland. It is also celebrated in other parts of the world, but it is not very serious. In England, the United States, Canada, and Australia, people wear green and celebrate Saint Patrick's Day with parades. In the city of Chicago, the river is dyed green on Saint Patrick's Day! People all around the world who aren't Irish like to celebrate Saint Patrick's Day because it is a lot of fun!

People wear shamrocks on Saint Patrick's Day because it is the symbol of Saint Patrick. A shamrock is a small green plant with three leaves.

I have a little shamrock
Its green as green can be.
Watch me as I count the leaves
One, two, three.

Sometimes people wear green hats to look like leprechauns. A leprechaun is a small fairy that Irish people tell stories about. They believe that leprechauns live at the end of the rainbow, and each leprechaun has a pot of gold. If you catch a leprechaun, you will get to keep his gold!

I'm a little leprechaun, dress in green,
The tiniest man that you have ever seen.
If you ever catch me so it's told
I'll give you my pot of gold.

Saint Patrick's Day is usually celebrated with a parade.
