

Fashion in Russia

In Russia, men and women dress according to different styles.

The most popular of these are styles:

- Casual
- business
- romantic
- street

Style Casual

Style Casual one of the hottest topics in recent years. Open any glossy magazine, visit fancy website and you will come across a beautiful word, «Casual».

T-shirts, polo is an element of aristocratic style Casual.

Style Casual

Straight lines, simple style and a desire to dress fashionably and be different from the great gray mass of people, all these features are typical for the style of "Casual".

Nowadays Casual style is developing in different directions.

Today it is the basis for the formation of new trends, such as:

- Business Casual
- Street Casual
- All-Out-Casual
- Smart Casual etc.

Casual style has become more than just a style of clothing.

Business Dress Code

Business attire should reflect the status and position of the person who wears it. Wardrobe should include women from the dark suit jacket and skirt or a dark trouser suit, blazers and shirts. Dressed in this way, she shows that others should take it seriously and that she had enough strength to stand up for themselves.

Romantic style

Feature of the romantic style is surrounding silhouette.

Romantic clothing often fitted, sometimes multilayered, formed from flowing, flying tissues.

Romantic style we are obliged to appearance of cleavage, various cuts and cutouts.

Most often, the Romantic style include:

- dresses
- tunics
- blouses
- skirts
- suits

Street style

Under the influence of various youth subcultures arise street style. One of the signs of street fashion has become the slogan of "Does it yourself."

At the heart of street style is pop-art, music, politics.

