Every house today is full of smart appliances, such washing machine, dishwasher, vacuum cleaner, microwave, stereo system. These objects have changed people's lives. They made it easier to cope with household chores

Nowadays the majority of people use modern gadgets. A "gadget" is a modern word, which usually describes a small electronic device. This device helps people to solve some of their problems.

But nowadays one kind of gadgets is the most popular – it is smartphone. The smartphone is a contemporary version of a usual mobile phone. They are very powerful and useful. And they are really convenient and comfortable to use. Smartphones help people to communicate.

There are three primary kinds of smartphones nowadays: iPhone, Android-platform devices, and Windows Phone-devices.

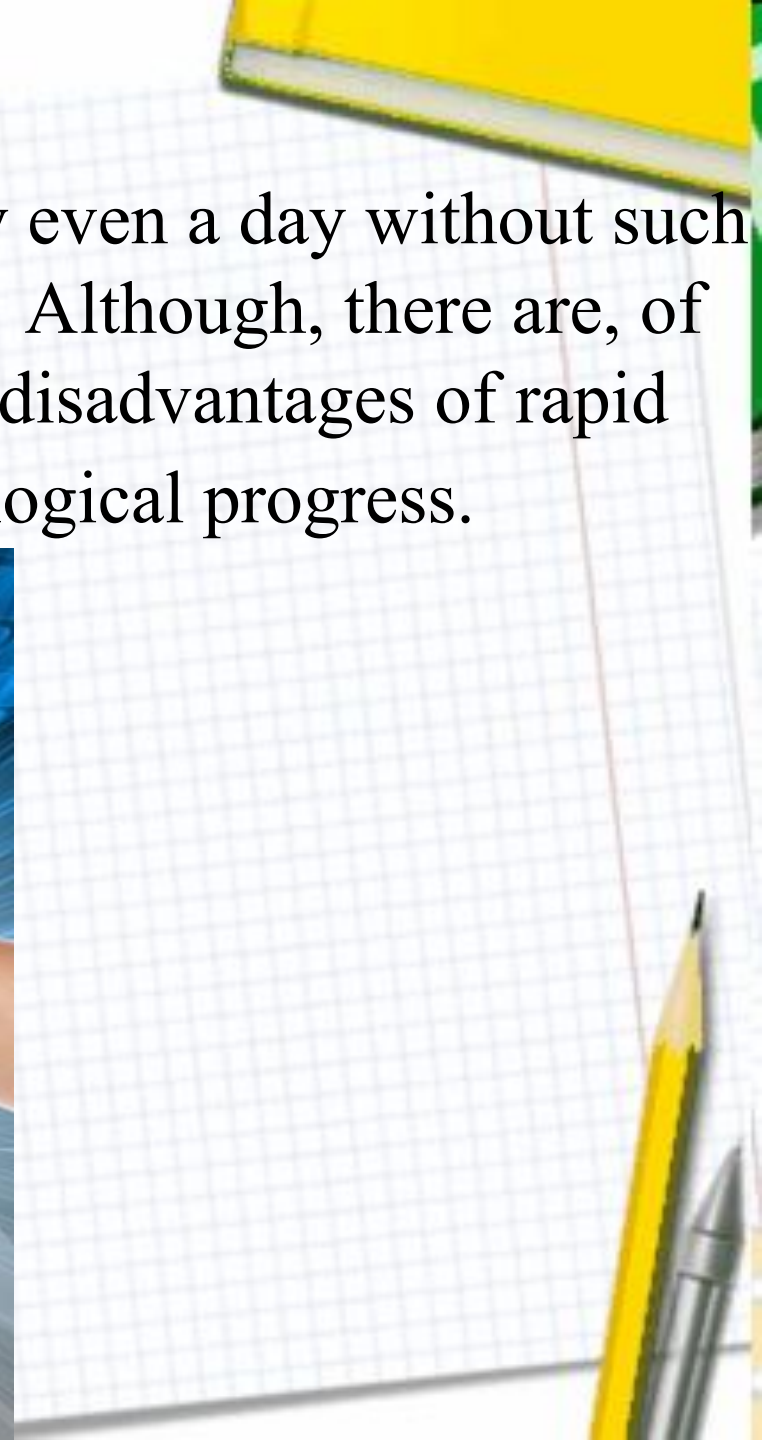

I think the most popular model of smartphones in Russia is iPhone. The second place belongs to Android-platform devices, and after them there are Window-Phone devices

It is hard to stay even a day without such handy gadgets. Although, there are, of course, some disadvantages of rapid technological progress.

Firstly, doctors state that all electronic gadgets are dangerous for health.

Secondly, all modern gadgets make us lazy.

Thirdly, people have become too dependent on these gadgets. They get stressed or unconfident when they forget a mobile phone at home.

In my opinion, gadgets produce addiction, which is bad for people's mind.
Nevertheless, it is hard to underestimate the role of new technologies in our life.

Thank you
