

HAPPY EASTER

SOFTPEDIA
www.softpedia.com

Easter is a very important festival in Great Britain.

Easter day is always on Sunday and it is spring. The wish for this day :”Happy Easter!”

There are many funny symbols and interesting traditions on this day.

- One of the symbols of Easter, Easter Bunny, as a satellite of the ancient goddess of the moon and the goddess of the dawn and spring Eostre.
- In the UK, children believe that if they behave well, the Easter bunny brings chocolate eggs for them.

At home the children arrange this "hunt" for chocolate Easter eggs, which are known or hidden in the house or garden.

The British in the Easter communicate with each other c chocolate eggs, Easter cakes with raisins, lemon, candied and dried fruit, sweet buns with a cross, candy and, of course, bunnies.

Easter Bonnet

It is traditional Easter Parade in Battersea Park.

This parade of ladies wear hats handmade, decorated with flowers and ribbons.

This special hats called Bonnet.

On Maundy Thursday the Queen will award only honored seniors who contributed to the development of the country. They receive ceremonial red and white purses containing coins, made specifically for the occasion.

Queen Elizabeth II presenting Maundy coins, with some Maundy coins from various periods shown

Big Egg Hunter

In London, found 200 Easter eggs made of fiberglass, each 76 cm in height Each has its own unique design. They created their best artists, designers, jewelers and fashion designers. Anyone for a small fee can join the search for the eggs, using a special card or a mobile application with prompts.

Hop, Hop, Hop

Hop, hop, hop,

Hop, my bunny, hop,

Hop with me my little bunny

You look sweet and very funny