

London

landmarks

The Houses of Parliament

The Palace of Westminster

The Houses of Parliament

Big Ben is a part of The Houses of Parliament, also known as the Palace of Westminster.

The building consists of The House of Commons,

The House of Lords and Westminster Hall.

The Palace of Westminster and Big Ben

One of the most famous landmarks of London.
The name „Big Ben” does not refer to the whole clocktower, but to the thirteen-tonne bell that strikes the hour.

Big Ben

Just next to the Palace of Westminster, this gothic church is the traditional place of coronation and burial site for English monarchs.

Westminster Abbey

On the other side of the River Thames you can see the London Eye, sometimes called the Millenium Wheel, the largest observation wheel in the world. It was opened on December 31, 1999.

London Eye

The Buckingham Palace

This is the official London residence of the British monarch. In front of it stands a sculpture called the Victoria Memorial, a large statue of Queen Victoria.

Buckingham Palace

The Buckingham Palace

The Tower of London

A photograph of the Tower of London, a historic stone fortress with four prominent towers topped with copper domes. The building is situated on a hillside, with lush green trees in the foreground. The sky is a pale, hazy blue. A modern building is visible in the background to the left. A green circular graphic is overlaid in the bottom right corner.

Situated by the River Thames, it is the most famous fortress in the UK. It is a complex of buildings which have served as treasury, mint, palace, place of execution and prison.

Tower of London

Tower Bridge

A photograph of the Tower Bridge in London at night. The bridge is illuminated with a warm, golden light, highlighting its intricate Gothic Revival architecture. The two massive towers are connected by a horizontal walkway with a decorative lattice pattern. The bridge is set against a dark sky, with the city lights of London visible in the background. The water of the River Thames is visible in the foreground, reflecting the bridge's lights.

The Bridge, constructed in the 1890s, took its name from the nearby Tower of London. The road over the bridge can be raised to allow ships to pass through.

St Paul's Cathedral

The present cathedral dates from the 17th century, when it was rebuilt after the Great Fire of London, and was designed by Christopher Wren.

St Paul's Cathedral

СОБОР СВ. ПАВЛА

St Paul's Cathedral

St Paul's Cathedral

A square in central London, which commemorates
the Battle of Trafalgar in 1805.
Nelson's column is in the centre,
surrounded by fountains and four huge bronze lions.

Trafalgar Square

Trafalgar Square

Trafalgar Square

One of the world's largest and most important museums of human history and culture, home to over seven million objects from all continents.

British Museum

A famous traffic intersection renowned for its video display and neon signs as well as the Shaftesbury memorial fountain and the statue of the Angel of Christian Charity, often called „Eros”.

Piccadilly Circus

Piccadilly Circus

Piccadilly

Piccadilly

Piccadilly Circus

You have seen just a few of the attractions of London.

Visit the British capital to see what else
it has got in store.