

Arseniy
Grigoriyevich
Golovko,
Admiral, the Commander of the Northern Fleet

June 10, 1906
– May 17, 1962

The beginning of his long voyage...

Arseniy Grigoriyevich Golovko was born on June 10, 1906 in a Cossack village Prokhladnaya.

He entered the Soviet Navy in 1925 and in 1928 graduated from the Higher Naval School by M.V. Frunze in Leningrad. After that he served in various Fleet assignments.

In 1937 and 1938 he took part in the Spanish Civil War on the side of the Republicans. In Spain his name was don Simon Garcia Galvis. He served as a councillor to the commander of the naval base in Cartagena.

After his return to the USSR he attended the naval warfare school. From 1940 to 1946, during the second world war, he was Commander of the Red Banner Northern Fleet.

The present generation must pay tribute to Arseniy Grigoryevich Golovko, who commanded the Northern Fleet. He won the war on the Northern theater of war.

His strategic decisions helped to protect allied convoys and repel Nazi attacks.

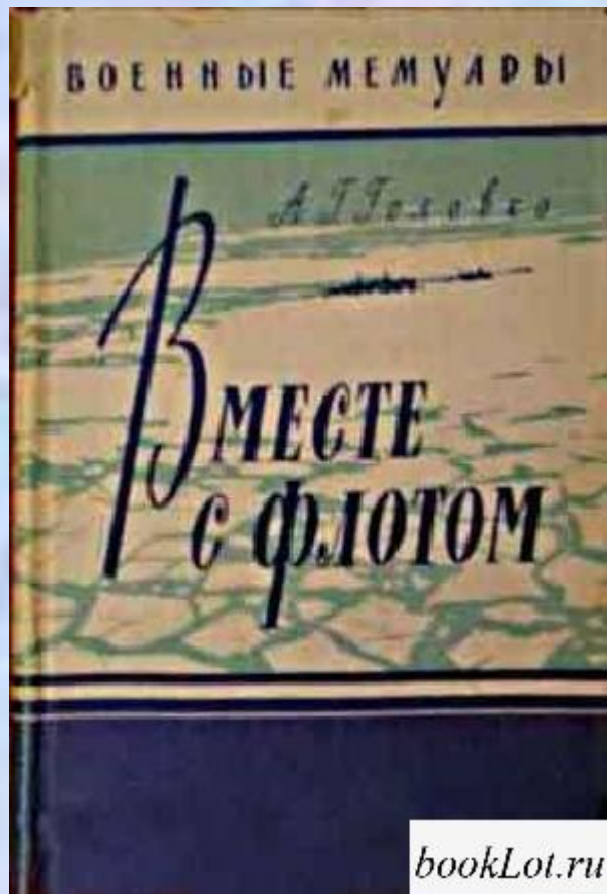

After the war he held various naval commands, among them Commander of the Baltic Fleet. In 1956 he was named First Deputy Commander-in-Chief of the Soviet Navy.
