

Hello! My name is Ann.
What am I?

You are right!
I am a shop assistant.

And who is this?

Yes, this is our customer.

Let's go to the

AIM

- To revise words and expressions in oral speech
- To develop dialog skills
- To revise a grammar rule: general and special questions in indirect speech

Shopping verbs

□ to sell

□ to buy

□ to serve

□ to help

□ to choose

□ to pay

□ to try on

Where's the fitting room?

What size you?

Can I help you?

Does it fit?

Is it my colour?

It suits you

Do you need another size?

What make do you prefer?

It's too big on me.

How will you pay?

Can I pay by card?

How much is it?

It's a bit small.

Would you like to try it on?

Do you have these jeans in a larger (smaller) size?

I'll take it.

Do you like it?

1

a choice of clothes

2

in the fitting-room

3

at the cash-desk

1

a choice of clothes

2

in the fitting-room

3

at the cash-desk

I like fancy clothes
Do you like fancy clothes?

Make sentences:
these jeans, do, me, suit?
me, these jeans, suit.

Do these jeans suit me?
These jeans suit me.

General question in indirect speech

Smb asks smb if -----

Ex: I ask her: “Do you like casual clothes?”

I ask her if she likes casual clothes.

1. He asks me: “Do you need another size?”
He asks me ...
2. She asks him: “Do you care about your clothes?”
She asks him...
3. I ask her: “Do you usually buy thins in the sales”
I ask her ...

Special question in indirect speech

Smb asks smb special word _____

Ex: I ask her: “What clothes do you like?”

I ask her what clothes she likes

1. She asks us: “What make do you prefer?”

She asks us ...

2. He asks her: “What size are you?”

He asks her ...

3. She asks me: “Where is the fitting-room?”

She asks me...