

MANCHESTER

Manchester is one of the English most important cities. It is located in the northern part of England, not far from Liverpool. Today the population of Manchester is 438,000.

Manchester – the largest English industrial and cultural center after London. In the city there are a lot of sights and architecture monuments.

The main sight and one of symbols of the city are hours in the town hall building. The town hall is the building built in the 19th eyelid executed in neogothic style, with eighty five meter tower in which hours settle down.

The central city square – Saint Peter. Today in the center of the area the biggest of city libraries in the world – the Central city library settles down.

The following sight - the Cathedral of Manchester, is the ancient church constructed in Gothic style in the 15th century. The most unusual part of this construction is her main facade. It is so skillfully made that can eclipse even skillful design of rooms and ceilings in a cathedral. Within the walls of ancient construction a large number of religious and architectural values disappears.

Manchester – the city rich with the museums, concert venues, art galleries and sports constructions. Entrance to the majority of more than ninety museums and city galleries the free

Manchester is famous for the sports, in particular soccer. Inhabitants of Manchester, are proud world famous and one of the best football clubs of a planet of Manchester United club.

To everyone who though for some days stops by in Manchester, it is worth descending to the most known Palace of theater. If you delighted with the opera visit not less known House of the Opera.

In the city there is a set of places which admirers of painting can visit. At the excursion program of such fans surely there has to be a campaign in one of the best art galleries under the name Art Gallery of Manchester. It settles down in the beautiful building which is the great architectural value of the city. The gallery represents an exhibition of a rich collection of works of English artists living with the beginning of the seventeenth until the end of the nineteenth centuries.

Other very interesting excursion object is the Museum of Manchester. In this museum the hugest collection representing history of Egypt is collected. You will see here the majority of invaluable archeological finds, important artifacts, objects of art and a life of ancient Egyptians. Today the museum is the most visited and known institution of the city.

It is possible to call a wheel the best sight not only because it gives the chance to take pleasure in panoramic views of Manchester but also because the Wheel is very popular and visited place of the city. You will be able to see the majority of known sights at the height of 60 m over only 7.5 pounds

THANK FOR YOU ATTENTION!