

Different types of houses

- a terraced house - is a house that is joined to others on both sides.

-a flat - is a home that is a set of rooms on one level of building.

a semi-detached house - is a house that is joined to another one.

a detached house - is a house that is not joined to another one.

a cottage - is a kind of small house, usually in the country

