What's this ?

It's a/an ...

It's a monkey .

A close-up photograph of a large African elephant standing in a grassy, open landscape. The elephant is facing slightly towards the right of the frame, with its massive ears spread wide. Its thick, wrinkled skin is a dark greyish-brown color. Two long, white tusks are visible protruding from its mouth area. The background shows a blurred green and brown savanna environment with some trees in the distance.
