

Claude Monet

Prepared
Pupil form 10
Kolpakchi Yana

- Oscar-Claude Monet (14.11.1840 – 5.12.1926) was a founder of French Impressionist painting and the most famous continuer of this direction.

- From the late 1860s impressionists were met with rejection
- At their first exhibition, held in April 1874, Monet exhibited his work, that were to give impressionist their good name.
- "Impression, Sunrise". This picture was painted in 1872. the art critic Louis Leroy coined the term "Impressionism", as disparagement, but the Impressionists appropriated the term for themselves.

"Impression, Sunrise".

- Claude Monet fought all his life for the right of existence of impressionism
- The first Impressionist exhibition was held in 1874 at 35 boulevard des Capucines, Paris, from 15 April to 15 May. The primary purpose of the participants was promote a new style and free themselves from the constraints

Boulevard des Capucines

Claude Monet. Chrysanthemums

Claude Monet - Portrait of Mrs. Gaudibert

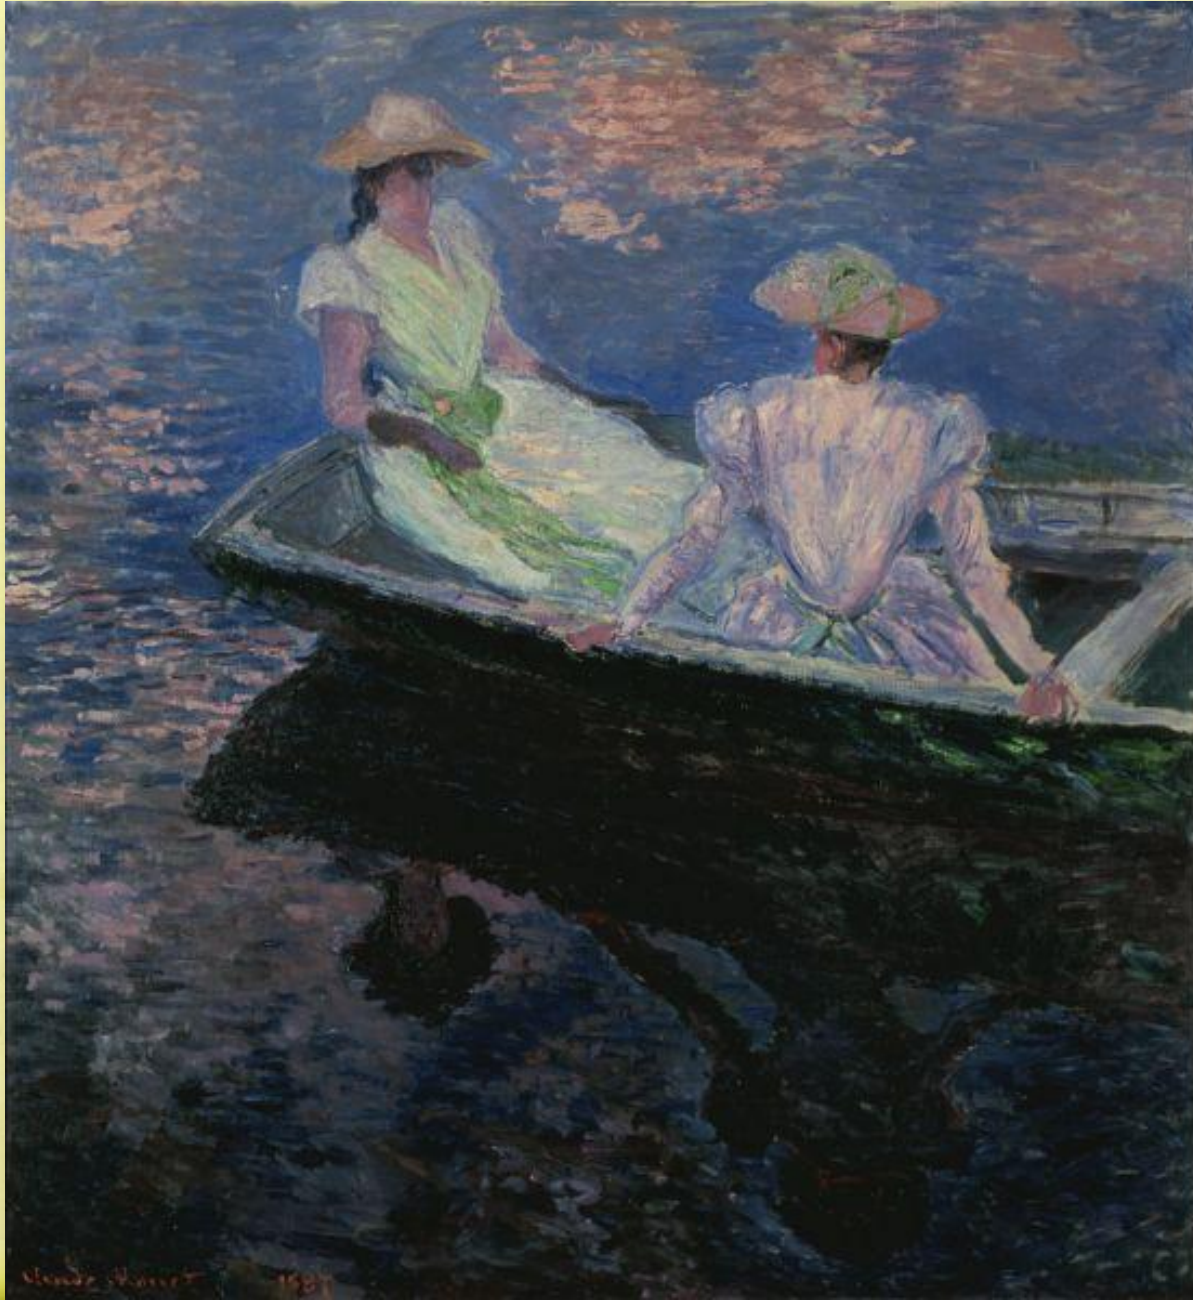

Claude Monet. Water Lily Pond.

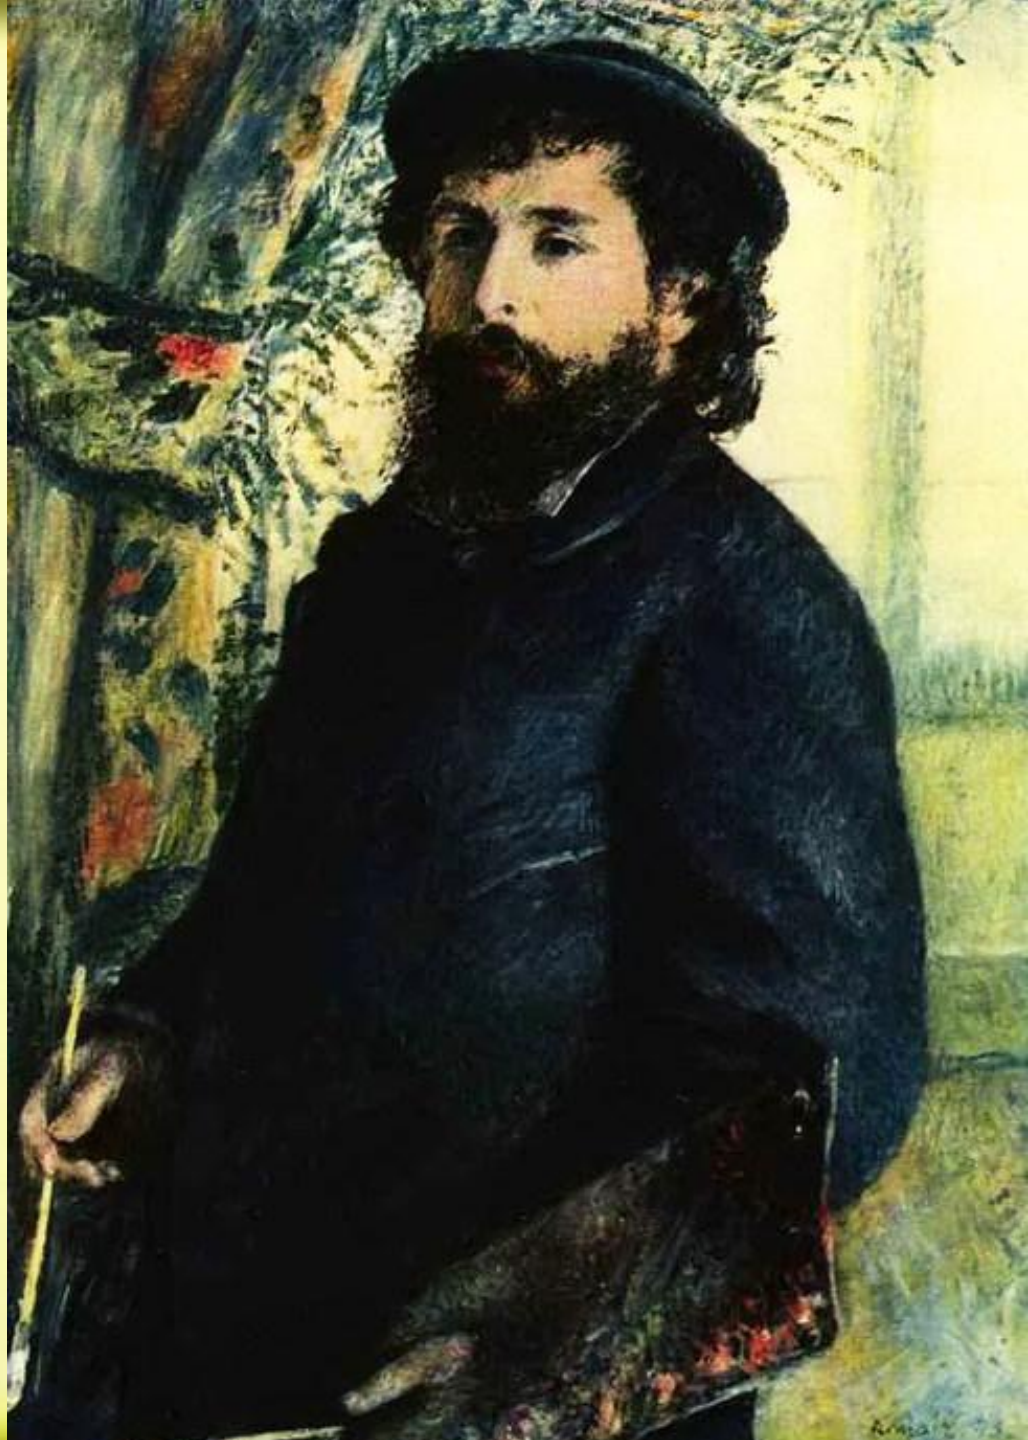

In the Garden by Claude Monet.

Young Girls in the Rowing Boat .Claude Monet.

- Claude Monet was a great artist, a fighter for the style that he created. I am confident that we will admire his paintings more than one century.

Pierre Auguste Renoir . Claud Monet