The invention of the television was the work of many individuals in the 19th and early 20th century. Individuals and corporations competed in various parts of the world to deliver a device that superseded previous technology. Many were compelled to capitalize on the invention and make profit, while some wanted to change the world through visual communication technology. Facsimile transmission systems for still photographs pioneered methods of mechanical scanning of images in the early 19th century. Alexander Bain introduced the facsimile machine between 1843 to 1846. Frederick Bakewell demonstrated a working laboratory version in 1851.

Molotov

Director Robert Rodriguez based on script by Linda Woolverton and starring Angelina Jolie. Beautiful, pure heart, a girl by the name of Maleficent lived on a hill. She is a powerful force, a wicked kingdom, who had not touched the forest and not touch by other. Maleficent has to defend their land. Her beauty being the girl's heart. Her open and soft, begins to unravel. Thinking for revenge of Maleficent comes face to face with the princess of the red king and where a love opens his wicked daughter's heart. As Aurora grows up, Maleficent realizes that this girl is the key to peace in the Kingdom, and, perhaps, her own happiness. I think this film is very beautiful and interesting.
