

English in Use

- Lay and Lie

Look at the differences

- Lay – to put or place
- Lie – to be in a particular position
- Lie – to say sth. that is not true

Now look at the table

infinitive	lay
past	laid
past participle	laid
present participle	laying
meaning	to put or place
object	yes

infinitive	lie
past	lay
past participle	lain
present participle	lying
meaning	to be in a particular position
object	no

infinitive	lie
past	lied
past participle	lied
present participle	lying
meaning	to say sth. that is not true
object	no

infinitive	lay	lie	lie
past	laid	lay	lied
past participle	laid	lain	lied present participle	laying	lying	lying meaning	To put or place	To be in a partic. position	To say sth. That is not true object	yes	no	no

Examples

Lay

- The mourners laid the flowers on the grave

Lie

- The book was lying open on the table

Lie

- Don't ever lie to me again!

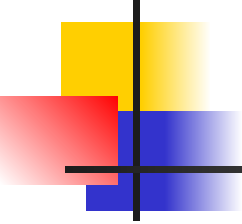

Exercise

- Complete the sentences with the correct form of appropriate verb – lay, lie, lie

There's nothing more relaxing than on the beach sunbathing.

Lesly was furious when she discovered her boyfriend had been to her.

The bricks were one on top of the other.

If you're feeling tired, why don't you go and down.

The prisoner was forced to
..... in order to protect his family.

Martha her head on the pillow and fell asleep at once.

The businessman was accused of to the investigating committee.

The thrill of being archeologist is finding objects that have ..... buried in the earth for centuries.

Don't spend the afternoon

..... around doing nothing – do something constructive!

The children the table for tea.

THANK YOU

Goodbye!