Five Little Leprechauns
by Leanne Guenther

Five little leprechauns on St. Patrick's Day

The first one said, 'I'd like to play!' (clap your hands three times)

The second one stood beside a rainbow.

The third one waved and said, 'Hello!' (step your feet three times)

The fourth one said, 'Good luck to the bold.'

The fifth one said, 'Just don't touch my gold!' ("hide your gold")

Plink, plink went the harp ' they all danced around,

Then five leprechauns ran off with a bound. (run)

The CIA (ЦРУ) lost track of it's operative in Ireland

Do you know "Murphy the Spy" joke? – No?!

"Murphy." The CIA boss says, "All I can tell you is that his name is Murphy and that he's somewhere in Ireland. If you think you've located him, tell him the code words, "The weather forecast calls for mist in the morning." If it's really him, he'll answer, "Yes, and for mist at noon as well." So the spy hunter goes

The bartender replies, "You're going to have to be more specific because, around here, there are lots of guys named Murphy. There's Murphy the Baker, who runs the pastry shop on the next block. There's Murphy the Banker, who's president of our local savings bank. There's Murphy the Blacksmith, who works at the stables. And, as a matter of fact, my

Hearing this, the spy hunter figures he might as well

try the code words on the bartender, so he says,

“The weather forecast is in the morning.”

The bartender replies, “I’m looking for Murphy the Spy. He’s in the area.”

Thank you for your watching!
