All the world's a stage,
And all the men and women merely players;
They have their exits
and their entrances,
And one man in his time
plays many parts,

“Theatres are _____ places, magician's trick-boxes where the golden memories of dramtic triumphs linger like nostalgic ghosts, and where the unexplainable, the fantastic, the tragic, the comic and the absurd are routine occur attractive on and off the stage.

- curious
- horrible

— E.A. Bucchianeri

“The theater is the only institution in the world which has been dying for _____ thousand years and has never succumbed. It requires tough and devoted people to keep it alive.”

— John Steinbeck,

— Marsha Norman

“The good die
young—but not always. The wicked prevail—but not consistently. I am confused by life, and I feel _____ within the confines
of the theatre.”

— Helen Hayes

~Stella Adler

I believe that in a great city, or even in a small city or a village, a great theatre is the outward and visible
sign of an inward
and probable
culture
