"In the end, the most important - to be honest with themselves and their loved ones and a lot of work. What is now, tomorrow will not. Be daring. Fight. Improve and cultivate their talents. Be the best at what you do. Learn about your type of activity more than anyone alive. Use the tools to feed themselves - whether it be books or the floor to dance or water to swim. Wherever it may be - it's yours. This is what I always try to remember.
