Dawn Treader

I want to tell you about a very interesting and addictive book, namely “The Chronicles of Narnia”.

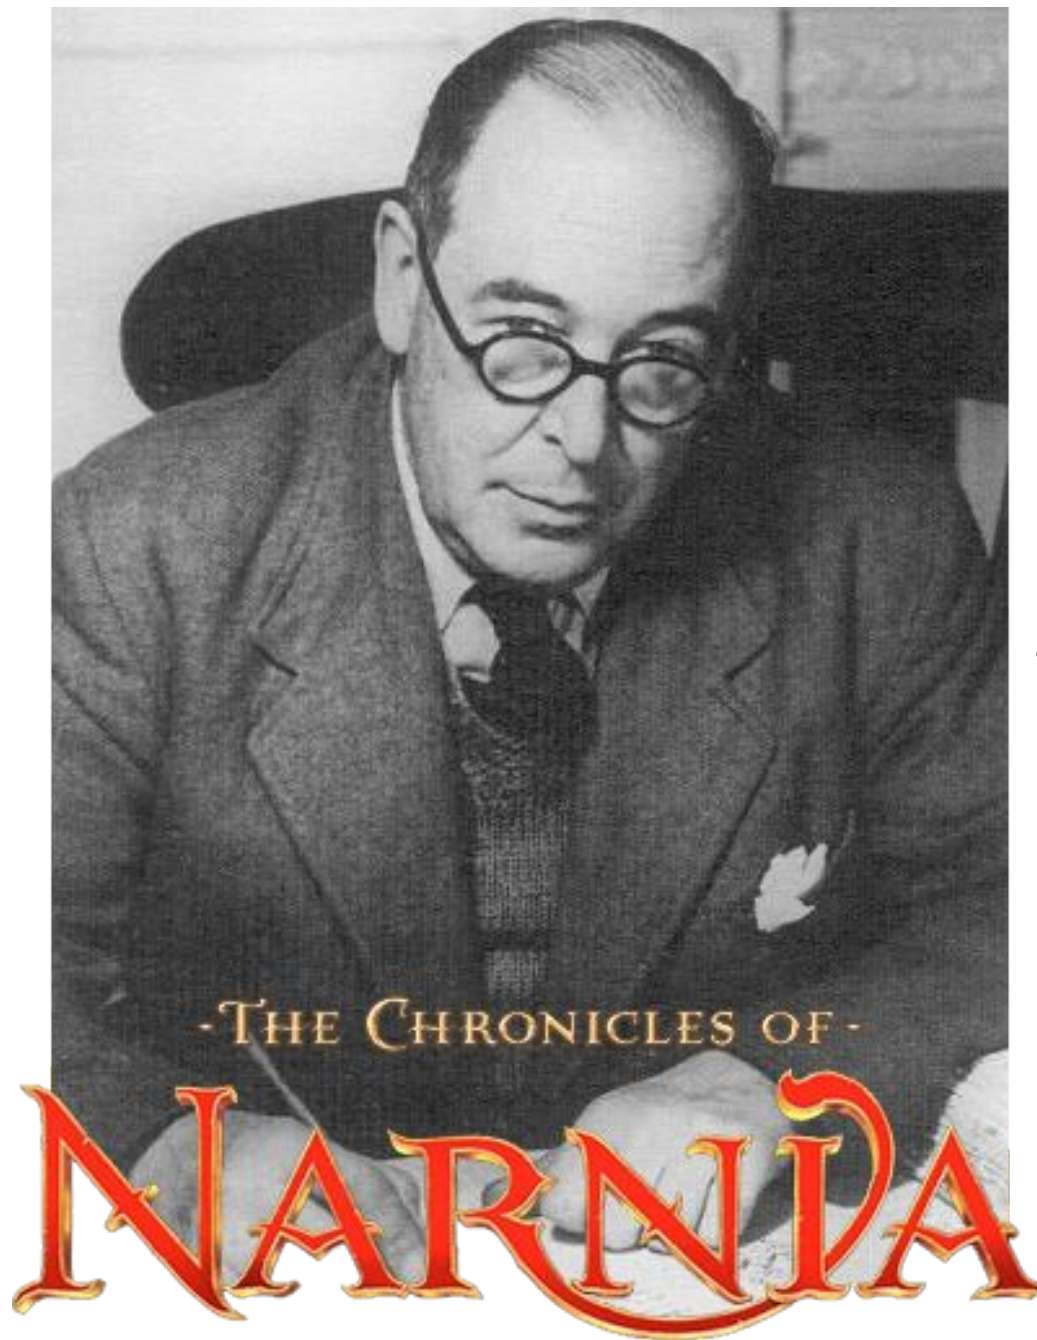

The Chronicles of Narnia
FULL-COLOUR COLLECTOR'S EDITION

Reading the book, you will open the bewitching magic world of Narnia - and you will get to the country which only children and people with a pure soul and open heart can see really .

There are 7 stories in this book. But the most interesting of them from my point of view is the story called “The voyage of the Dawn” .

The British writer
Clive S. Lewis
(1898-1963) wrote
this book in 1952.

He describes this book very precisely. Therefore it is possible to present ourselves the main characters, to be in that country, to stay in a dragon's skin and many other things!

In this book it is told about other world which was created by the magician lion named Aslan.

Narnia - The magic country which is ruled by love and kindness, where animals and birds speak and think like people, and gnomes and giants, fauns and centaurs live in the woods.

Now we will pass to my favourite story - The Voyage of the Dawn Treader. There have absolutely accidentally got the boy Edmund, the girl Lucie and their relative is Eustace. They have looked at the picture with the sea and the ship. Wind has risen - it only blew on them from a picture. Together with wind also other sounds – rustling of waves, splash of water about ship boards, a scratch and the rumble of air and water blocking all the rest have reached.

It was suddenly watered from the picture , it has filled everything the room - almost to the ceiling. They have dived and have come up already in Narnia before the ship.

Edmund, Lucie, and Eustace join the voyage of Caspian, who wants to find seven lords expelled by Miraz. On the way to the country of Aslana they meet face to face miracles and dangers of the great East Sea

For example, Eustace because of the greed turns into a dragon.

When they find the 7th sword and put it on Aslan's table - that evil evaporates.
On this their journey comes to the end.

My most favourite hero is Ripichip.

Little mouse Ripichip with brave and noble heart is ready to give the life for the King and friends. I would like to have the same loyal friend.

When I grow up I want to become the same good writer and write the book with my own country, with my own heroes.

Thanks for attention!!!
