The Plan

- The author
- The book is about...
- The time and place
- The main character
- The short contents
- The recommendations

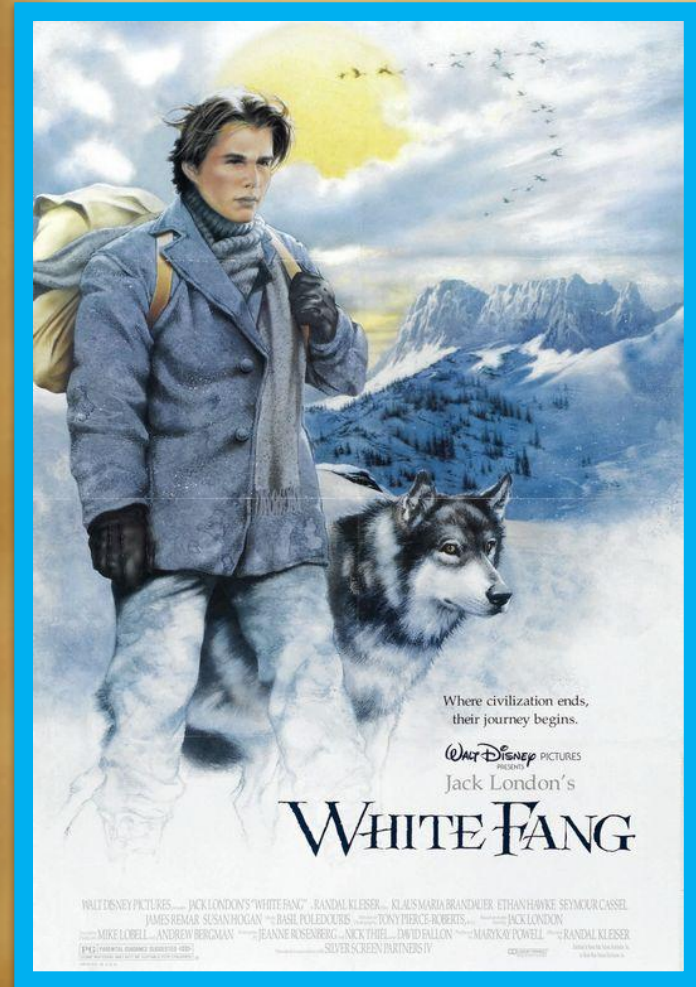

Jack London

- A popular American writer
- Wrote about Alaska and ordinary people and animals
- Gold rush

White Fang

- An adventure story
- Interesting, fascinating
- About relations between people and animals
- About loyalty and friendship
- The main character – a wolf
- Its name – White Fang
- He tells the story

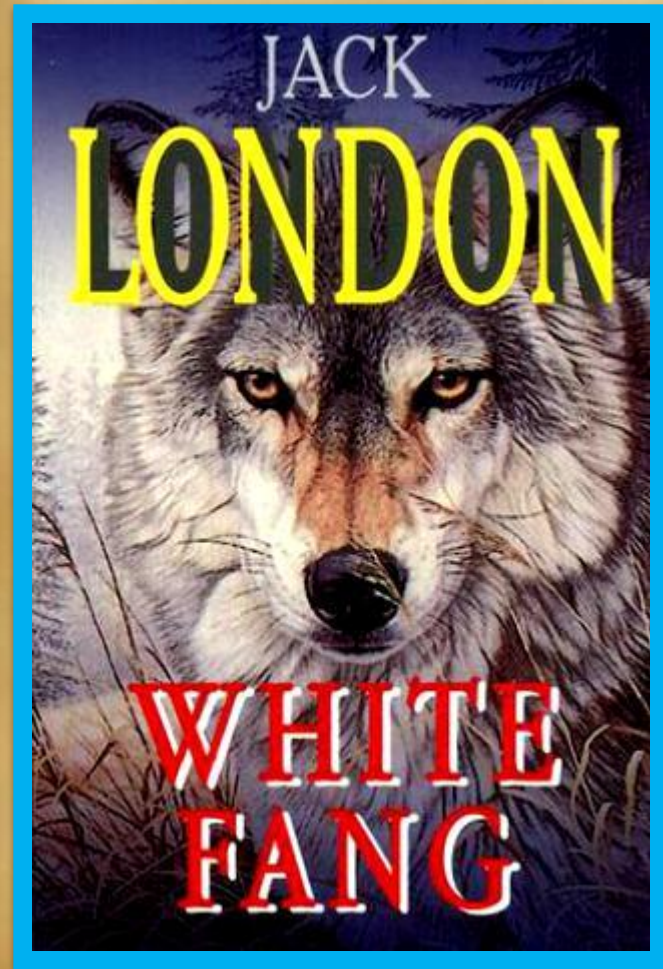

The contents

- His mother was partly a dog and his father – a wolf who was killed in the battle with a lynx. One day he and mum came to people –the Indians and stayed there. White Fang didn't like it, he often fought with dogs. But he was a true friend and a good worker.

- The wolf worked as a riding dog, then – a fighter, and at last – a guard of a family in California.
- His life was full of adventures, difficulties, danger but he considered a man for a God and served him.
- The book ends happily: White Fang got a family with Collie and they had some little puppies...

- was translated into many languages in the world
- I recommend:
 - who likes adventures
 - who prefers stories about animals
 - who is keen on books by Jack London

- First was published in The Outing Magazine in 1906
- First was screened in 1946
- The last – in 1991
